High Finance, Two Kinds
Clara Bow Has Pluck
Russia Worries Them
Harkness, Good American

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

FINANCE in the newly created prohibition crime is also complicated as high finance on Wall street.

Frank John Factor, better known as Jake the Barber," says he would gladly devote his talent to the United States authorities, that he might escape from his own friends.

Those who kidnap "The Barber" expect to divide $5,000,000 accumulated in swindling enterprises in Europe. Failing such escape they would shoot him.

Max "Legs" Diamond, who carries in his body eight or ten slugs received by gangster friends who attempts to murder him, is said to be anxious to find "Jake the Barber." Mr. Diamond "grubstaked the Barber" that he might sell stocks to the simple minded persons in Europe.

The Barber made $5,000,000 and failed to divide with his grubstaker. In the world of gang finance that means death. No wise insurance company would finance "The Barber" now.

THERE IS NO SUCH rough work in Wall street finance. Yesterday's events there recall your childhood rhyme:

"Jack and Jill went up the hill
To fetch a pail of water
Jack fell down and broke his crown
And Jill came tumbling after."

Yesterday big Steel was Jack and American Can was Jill. They both "broke 100." Which means that they fell below par.

In a little while men will rub their eyes, not believing that it really happened. Two years ago men that "play the market" had for their limit not the sky or the fixed stars, but the distant nebulae. Now they will sacrifice their stocks and later buy them again at top prices. And so it goes.

THE LATE RUSSELL SAGE said to this writer in the ancient days, "Young man, everybody has in his lifetime at least one chance to buy Western Union at 50. When your chance comes, don't miss it."

Western Union has been at 50 at least twice since then, and, with all our depression, $106 a share was bid for Western Union yesterday, and nobody sold any.

In October, 1929, it sold at $272. It was a good day for the newly developed crops of amateur "bears." Wheat was weak, cotton sold at the lowest price since the summer of 1915. It's the old, sad story. When there are bargains nobody has money, or, if he has, he won't spend it. When there are no bargains, everybody wants to buy. What will happen to those improvised bears later will surprise them.

But, mind, we do not, as yet, advise you to buy any particular stock.

IT TAKES pluck to defy blackmailers and extortionists.

Miss Clara Bow, a young moving picture actress of great talent, deserves thanks for showing the necessary courage.

One of the criminals, preying upon her, has been convicted of grand theft, another is prosecuted by the federal authorities.

Unfortunately, the long strain in court, with the unsuccessful attempts at blackmail and the efforts to blacken her character, have injured her health, forcing her, temporarily, to enter a sanitarium for recuperation.

The public, with whom Clara Bow greatly increased her popularity, can show its appreciation of her plucky conduct by flocking more than ever to her pictures, constantly improving.

TWELVE NATIONS in Europe, to say nothing of this one, are worried about Russian industrial, commercial and business competition. The "export markets of the United States are much affected," we are told. Where we used to sell goods, Russia is underselling us.

NEW AUTO FEE BILL FILED IN STATE SENATE

Proposes $2 Liicense Charge on Each Car with Property Tax Attached.

INCOME TAX ADVOCATED

Favored by Ohio Merchants Who Attack Plan for Levy on Intangibles.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 19—Senator William H. Herner, Democrat of Huron county, who last week introduced a bill providing for a straight license fee of $4 on all pleasure automobiles with a graduated property tax to be paid at the time the license is obtained, today introduced another bill changing the rates and intended to be a substitute for his former one.

The rates in the new bill are $2 for each pleasure car and truck with a graduated property tax of one and a half per cent on percentage of list price of the machine according to age. The first bill proposed a one per cent rate on the same percentages of list price according to age.

The new bill also provides for increases in the regular truck licenses on the weight basis, but not so great as provided in a bill introduced last night by Senator Paul P. Yoder, Democrat of Dayton.

Equal Division Provided

Under the new Herner bill, the $2 license fee would be divided equally between the state and county highway maintenance and repair funds. The graduated property tax all would go to the county general fund.

The senate adjourned until tomorrow afternoon without transacting any other business.

The measure introduced last night by Senator Yoder would establish a fee for pleasure automobiles of $2, $3 and $5 on the present horsepower basis and $2.50 for motorcycles and $1.50 for side cars.

The $3,500,000 thus lost annually on pleasure cars by such reduction would be made up on increased fees for heavy trucks while the fee for light trucks would be reduced from 70 cents per hundredweight to 50 cents.

Proposes Gas Pump Levy

Senator Yoder also offered the bill to license gasoline pumps at $5 per year payable quarterly. The money, not estimated by Senator Yoder, would be divided, 50 per cent to the state highway construction funds; 25 per cent to municipalities and 25 per cent to counties.

GERMANY LAUNCHES NEW LIGHT CRUISER

$20,000,000 Craft Built Under Specifications of Versailles Peace Treaty.

By The Associated Press

KIEL, Germany, May 19—As a symbol of Germany's new naval era, the "vestpocket" cruiser Deutschland today slid into the water amid the cheers of a great throng that came from all sources of the fatherland to pay tribute to German engineering genius.

The cruiser was launched a bit prematurely, skidding down the ways before President Von Hindenburg had time to make his speech or smash the traditional bottle of champagne across the prow.

Nations of the world were called upon by Chancellor Heinrich Bruening to follow Germany's example in fulfilling its disarmament obligations under war treaties.

Delivering the principal address at the launching the chancellor said "Germany can with absolute right and quite seriously say that she has not neglected conscientiously to fulfill the disarmament obligations imposed upon her by the treaties.

When complete the cruiser will have a speed of 26 knots, a cruising range of 10,000 miles, six 11-inch guns in two turrets, eight six-inch guns mounted amidships, six torpedo tubes and several anti-aircraft guns.

A tremendous saving in weight was effected by welding her plates instead of using rivets, as well as by especially light, compact Diesel motors.

Another feature of the details which was kept secret is a mine cleaning device which makes the cruiser practically mine proof. She will cost $20,000,000 and is the first of four 10,000 ton vessels to be constructed before 1936 under the terms of the Versailles treaty to replace antiquated ships of the line now a quarter of a century old.

Gives Suicide Verdict in Death of McAleer

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 19—Coroner M. E. Hayes found the death last April 29 of James R. McAleer, former major league baseball manager, a suicide, records of the county board of health revealed today.

Reporters discovered the coroner's verdict, which gave the cause of death as "Suicide—gun shot wounds, self inflicted, in head."

McAleer was shot April 28 and died the next day. It was announced that he had died of a lingering illness after an operation.

McAleer formerly had managed the Cleveland, Washington and St. Louis baseball clubs.

AIMS TO BLOCK CUT IN WAGES

Administration Serves Notice Reductions Are Violation of Agreement.

HOOVER PACT IS CITED

Program Decided at That Time Still Stands, Labor Secretary Says.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 19—The administration is trying to erect a blockade on the path to lower wages.

Through Secretary of Labor Doak it has notified workers and employers alike that any general efforts to reduce pay should be a violation of the agreement reached between labor and industry in the 1929 conference called by President Hoover.

The secretary said yesterday there had been no revocation of that agreement to maintain wage levels despite the depression. He added that general reductions would be a violation of confidence and would permit employes to demand more money although they had decided to abide by present pay scales.

Doak said he believed pay slashes shown in recent compilations by his department could be attributed to the smaller businesses. The larger industries have not reduced but are responding "fairly well" to insistence that the level be maintained, he asserted.

The secretary had not been told officially about the statement of President William Green of the American Federation of Labor that workers would be justified in striking to forestall wage cuts. Nor did Doak discuss the announcement by the executive council of the federation that certain bankers and industrialists were planning general reductions.

While the cabinet member was making his statement, Fred C. Croxton, acting chairman of the President's emergency committee for employment, held Green's warning did not presage widespread labor difficulties. He did predict, however, additional labor disturbances if the depression continued.

PRISON FIRE JURY NEAR COMPLETION

Taking of Testimony in Convict's Trial Expected To Begin Wednesday.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 19—With five men and two women seated tentatively as jurors, attorneys expected to complete the panel today in the trial of Clinton Grate, 31, convict, charged with first degree murder in connection with the Ohio penitentiary fire a year ago.

Selection of the jury will be followed by peremptory challenges and testimony probably will get under way tomorrow. Defense counsel questioned the prospective jurors as to their knowledge of electricity, indicating that an attempt would be made to prove that the fire was caused by defective wiring.

The state claims the conflagration, in which 320 prisoners died, was started by a fuse which Grate and Hugh Gibson, 366, another convict, confessed they ignited. Gibbons, indicted with Grate, will be tried later.

Thirty-eight penitentiary convicts have been summoned as witnesses, 29 by the defense and nine by the state. Those called by the defense include "Big Jim" Morton Cleveland bank robber, who occupied the same cell block as Grate and Gibbons before the fire.

Grate, now quartered in Franklin county jail, has discarded his prison garb for a dark blue suit, green tie, white shirt and dark shoes which he said were furnished by relatives.

BUILDING OF CHARACTER IS SCOUTING AIM

Supplements Training of Church Home and School for Marion Youths.

COMMUNITY FUND AGENCY

Work of Local Troops Reviewed as Annual Campaign Nears.

To familiarize its subscribers with the multiplicity of welfare and character building activities in Marion financed by the Community Fund, The Star is presenting in its news columns a series of articles dealing with the work of each fund agency. Following is one of the series, describing activities of Boy Scouts, a character building unit in the fund setup.

Scouting, a movement which in Marion is financed by the Community Fund, aims to supplement in the life of a youth the existing organizations such as the home, church and school, by engaging the boy's leisure-time energies in outdoor games and activities of cultural and practical value.

The aim of the Scout movement is to inculcate character which, though essential to success in life, is not taught within the school, and, being largely a matter of environment, is too generally left to chance. The Scout movement supplies the required environment to 289 Marion youths in the weekly troop meetings, hikes, camp periods and other scouting activities, using a program conducive to better citizenship.

Views of Executive

This is a brief outline of scouting as it occurs to Arthur S. Brooks, scout executive for the Harding area. This position has been filled by Mr. Brooks for only a few months, but already much has been accomplished under his management.

Marion Scouts have the unusual advantage of a fully equipped and advantageously located Scout camp in Camp John A. Owens, south of here. Four hundred and seventy Scouts with their leaders camped week-ends at the camp last year, and 133 Scouts attended full time summer camp periods. Instruction in handicraft projects, nature study, first aid, woodcraft and scoutcraft was given at the camp. Eight screened lodges with steel cots and mattresses accommodate eight boys each. There is a dining hall with fireplace, a handicraft shop, temporary headquarters, and other small buildings. Fifty-four acres of woodland and meadow comprise the camp, which is equipped with a swimming pool, ball diamonds and suitable grounds for other sports.

Officers of Area

Scouting in this area is headed by 10 officers which also comprise the executive board of the area. They are Frank D. Glosser, presi-

HITS HIGH TARIFF

British Foreign Secretary Calls for New Plan to Aid Europe.

By The Associated Press

GENEVA, Switzerland, May 19—Denouncing the high tariff system as the biggest contributor to the world's economic crisis, Arthur Henderson, British foreign secretary, today called upon the Pan-European commission to adopt some common plan to save Europe from economic disaster.

"We are faced with a great international dispute," he said, referring to the proposed Austro-German customs accord. It is the first dispute of the great powers before the League of Nations."

He proposed creation of a subcommittee to weigh all the projects suggested for general economic relief and to bring in a common plan in which all the nations might engage.

STORES PLAN THREE BIG ECONOMY DAYS

Marion Merchants Prepare for Gigantic Sales Event, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Marion's Three Big Economy Surprise Days." That is the slogan chosen by leading merchants of the city for a retail sales campaign to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Twenty-four merchants of the city are joining in the event which is planned as one of the most extensive campaigns engaged in by local merchants in recent years.

20,500 Copies of The Star

The story of the special sales will be carried to more than 150,000 persons within a 25 mile radius of Marion in Wednesday's edition of The Star. More than 20,500 copies of The Star will be issued on that day. They will be placed in every home within 25 miles of the city.

The advertisements of The Star on Wednesday will be crammed with bargains for shoppers who take advantage of "Three Big Economy Surprise Days."

Practically every line of retail merchandising in the city will be represented in the sales event.

"Princess Charming"

As a special feature to add interest to the event the Ohio Theater will sponsor a "Princess Charming" contest. A Marion woman, well-known to local residents, will mingle with shoppers in the business district beginning Thursday, the opening day of the sales event. To the first 50 persons recognizing the "Princess Charming" will go a reward of tickets to the Ohio theater. A tap on the shoulder and the words, "You are the Princess Charming," will indicate that the "Princess" has been recognized.

The merchants who will take part are Kline's department store, Richman's clothing store, Uhler-Phillips Co., Schaffner furniture store, Kinney's shoe store, Gallaher's drug store, Frank Bros. Co., Jenner's department store, Van Atta Hardware Co., Firestone service stores, Kleinmaier clothing store, Smart & Waddell shoe store, Henry Ackerman Piano Co., J. C. Penny Co., Jim Dugan, May Jewelry & Radio Co., Charles F. Smith clothing store, Nobil's shoe store, Warner & Edwards Co., Ohio theater, Eckerd's drug store, Anthony laundry, Lusch super-station and Mautz Bros. Hardware Co.

EX-MAYOR OF GALION DIES FROM INJURY

Robert W. Johnston Passes Away; Funeral Wednesday at 2:30 P. M.

Special to The Star

GALION, O., May 19—Robert W. Johnston, former attorney, city official and business man here, died last night in Good Samaritan hospital at the age of 80 years.

A fractured hip sustained last Friday when he fell at the home of H. E. Province near Bloomingrove, where he lived, caused his death. He had been blind for the last two and a half years.

He practiced law here and served terms as mayor and city solicitor. He was a charter director of the Home, Savings & Loan Co. Twenty-five years ago he became interested in real estate and had extensive holdings in Columbus.

He was born June 2, 1850 near Hayesville and came to Galion in 1876 when he started reading law in the office of Attorney H. C. Carhart. After graduating from the Cincinnati Law School in 1979 he became associated with Carhart.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the Snyder funeral home where the body was taken today. The body will be taken to Cincinnati for cremation.

Former U. S. Beauty To Go on Trial for Murder

By The Associated Press

NICE, France, May 19—Mrs. Charlotte Nixon-Nirdlinger, former St. Louis, Mo., beauty contestant, goes on trial tomorrow for the killing of Fred Nixon-Nirdlinger, wealthy Philadelphia theater owner.

The state will ask a verdict of guilty for "murder with excuse of provocation," the punishment for which is from two to five years in prison. The defense, headed by Louis Gassin, the Riviera's greatest criminal lawyer, is expected to plead self-defense.

Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger, 26, and the mother of two children, has been in jail since her 54-year-old husband was shot to death March 11. She has confessed to firing two shots into his body in the bedroom of their villa, claiming he had threatened her life in a jealous rage. She surrendered to police immediately after the crime.

DRY AGENTS SWOOP DOWN ON LAS VEGAS

Federals Stage Cleanup in Nevada Town, Boulder Dam Base.

By The Associated Press

LAS VEGAS, Nevada, May 19—More than 80 persons were under bond or facing arraignment today as a result of a series of raids on the liquor dispensaries of this desert city, the operating base for construction of Hoover dam.

Saloons, night clubs, breweries and stills capitulated without serious disorders to the march of some 45 outside federal agents in an unexpected invasion yesterday.

United States Commissioner W. J. Hooper held court until after midnight last night, formally booking defendants and fixing bonds. Others were to be arraigned later today. Preliminary hearings will be set later. Most of the charges are possession and sale of liquor.

The raiders, from Los Angeles, San Francisco and Reno prohibition headquarters, acted under orders to "clean up" the town. Colonel George Seaver of San Francisco, in command, said "we're going to make this place safe for Hoover dam workers."

Proprietors, bartenders, girl entertainers, "bouncers," and other attaches of the liquor haunts were rounded up. Besides 25 night clubs, roadhouses and saloons, five breweries and three stills were put out of commission.

Although about 20 miles from the site of Boulder City, the "model town" which the government is building for dam workers Las Vegas will be in easy reach of laborers off duty. State authorities do not enforce prohibition.

A palatial gambling establishment was opened here recently and others may open later.

OHIO SHERIFF SUED

By United Press

11 Americans To Curtsy in English Royal Court

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 19—King George and Queen Mary, assisted by the Prince of Wales, will receive in historic Buckingham palace tonight, among others, 10 American debutantes and the wife of an American minister in the first of the social season's four court presentations.

The last curtsy was practiced today and the last ruffle patted into place in preparation for the crowning event in the social lives of the elect.

Mrs. Charles Gates Dawes, wife of the American ambassador to the Court of St. James, will present the following:

Mrs. Ralph Booth, wife of the American envoy to Denmark of Detroit; Miss Barbara Hutton, Miss Louise Behn, and Miss Virginia Penn of New York; Miss Helen Brinton, Miss Margaret Duane and Miss Edith Martin of Philadelphia; Miss Adele Jaffacke of New Orleans, Miss Bertha Potter Palmer and Miss Virginia Dawes of Chicago; and Miss Jasmin Schoellkopf of Buffalo.

Nine American women, six debutantes and three matrons, will participate in the second presentation tomorrow night.

When the guests line up in their carriages along the mall—the wide drive leading to the palace—to await their summons, London will be provided with one of its favorite shows. Habitues of the court as well as the trembling neophytes will be exposed for hours to the inquisitive gaze of cockney crowds.

AMERICAN GENERAL BURIED IN CRASH OF FRENCH CHATEAU

Robert H. Dunlap of U. S. Marine Corps, Two Others Believed Killed in Tours Accident; One Victim Is Woman.

ARMY ENGINEERS AID RESCUE WORK

By The Associated Press

TOURS, France, May 19—While his wife looked on in horror, General Robert H. Dunlap, U. S. marine corps, today was buried under a collapsing wall of the Chateau de La Fariniere, about 10 miles from here, which had been undermined by heavy rains.

Rescuers began digging in the debris within a few minutes after the accident happened but early this evening they held little hope that the general would be brought out alive.

The Chateau Faraniere is a large property extending along a hillside beside the Loire. The chateau itself is a country boarding house where the general and Mrs. Dunlap recently took up quarters. Nearby are the buildings occupied by the farm hands.

Hear Call for Help

One of the hands Denis Briant, was talking to General Dunlap while Mrs. Briant was working in a barn adjoining the chateau. Suddenly a shower of stones fell from the roof and the woman shrieked for help.

Briant and the general ran into the barn, in hope of rescuing the woman, but just then there was an avalanche of earth, dragging trees and huge blocks of stone and burying everything in its path, including a horse and wagon.

When neighbors arrived they found new fissures in the nearby rocky surface and in the house the Briants occupied. Volunteers who later were reinforced by French army engineers began removing the debris but there were no cries from the woman and the two men underneath.

It was believed that removal of the ruins might take some time and that the victims might not be reached for several days.

An avalanche from the hilltop overlooking the estate was responsible for the tragedy. Tonight a large detachment of soldiers was helping the local police and volunteers in clearing away the wreckage.

HAS NOTABLE RECORD

General Dunlap Accorded High Recognition for Service

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 19 — Brigadier General Robert H. Dunlap, caught in a building collapse at Tours, France, today, has a long and distinguished record in the marine corps. A native of this city, he entered the service in 1898 for the Spanish war as a second lieutenant.

For "exceptionally meritous and conspicuous service" in France General Dunlap was awarded a citation certificate by General Pershing and a navy cross for his activities as regimental commander in the Argonne-Meuse campaign.

FLIGHT DELAYED

Fog and Rain Prevents Army Air Squadron's Trip to Chicago.

By The Associated Press

FAIRFIELD AIR DEPOT, DAYTON, O., May 19—Heavy weather in the Chicago region today caused army air corps officials to postpone until tomorrow the flight of 500 planes to that city.

For four hours the army pilots, participating in the annual maneuvers, stood by their planes awaiting orders to take off for the Windy City, but fog, rain and soggy landing fields there caused the officers in charge to order the postponement.

Weather permitting the air division will take wing at 5 a. m. tomorrow, if the weather is bad at that hour the planes will leave later and the parade over Chicago will be postponed from 9 a. m. to noon, Brigadier-General Fioulois, commanding officer, announced.

Following the Chicago demonstration there will be a review of the entire division of fighting planes. The division will then split up, 200 ships going to Cleveland, the remainder returning here for a hop to New York Thursday.

In an address to the pilots last night, General Foulois, commander of the maneuvers, stressed the necessity for safety. He told each pilot to consider safety above everything else.

Laws Pile Up

(Will Rogers Special)

MOJAVE, Cal., May 19—When I come through North Carolina the other day, they were trying every means known to deviltment and science to get their legislature to resign. Well, California's finally exhausted yesterday. Thirty-five hundred bills were introduced 1,450 unsuccessfully (that many passed).

Now no state can possibly have that many things wrong with it. And of course they turned down the only modern, up-to-date and sensible one of the whole thirty-five hundred.

It would have gotten the state more favorable comment than all the others put together. That was to get Gov. Rolph an aeroplane. In a big state like this, how do they expect him to get around on a bicycle.

Will Rogers

MOB ATTEMPTS TO STORM JAIL

National Guardsmen Prevent Seizure of Negro Prisoners from Georgia Prison.

TWO MEN ARE WOUNDED

Troops Forced To Fire To Save Alleged Attackers of White Woman.

By The Associated Press

ELBERTON, Ga., May 19—Two white men were in a hospital today with gunshot wounds received while national guardsmen defended the jail against a mob seeking to remove two negroes charged with attacking a white woman.

Meanwhile, the Negroes were smuggled out of the jail and taken to Atlanta by guardsmen early today for safe-keeping after a night of mob activity that was suppressed only by use of rifle fire and tear gas bombs. Four companies of guardsmen, including a machine gun company, were called to duty around the jail between yesterday afternoon and midnight.

Officers Foil Mob

Earlier in the day members of the mob in automobiles attempted to seize four other Negroes arrested in the case while officers were taking them to Athens, Ga. At Athens a crowd congregated around the jail, but was soon dispersed.

The mob first formed here late in the afternoon when the Negroes were placed in jail. At the time it was known that only one was under arrest. The guardsmen were placed on duty after appeals to Governor L. G. Hardman from local officials.

Two local units of the national guard roped off a deadline around the jail. The mob soon grew to 1,500 or more and cut the ropes, surged into the jail, and beat the locks on the cells of one of the Negroes before they were repulsed.

Guards Wound Two

Outside the Elberton fire department played streams of water on the mob until members seized the hose and turned it on the firemen and the guardsmen. Then the guardsmen hurled tear gas bombs, but the mob boomeranged them back. Rifle fire followed and Emory Edwards and Lyn Crowder, both of Elberton, fell with wounds in their legs.

It was reported at the hospital Crowder's injuries were serious and probably would necessitate amputation of a leg.

One round of fire curbed the mob considerably, but tear gas bombs were used intermittently.

SCHOOL HEAD QUITS AT YOUNGSTOWN

Plans Return to Farm Near St. Paris; Objects to Board's Methods.

By United Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 19—Dr. J. J. Richeson of St. Paris, O., superintendent of schools here for five years, resigned today rather than submit to what he termed "official intrustion into his private affairs."

Dr. Richeson tendered his resignation after the board of education told him he would not be reappointed next year. The school superintendent today was quoted as saying the board questioned his financial transactions with teachers and he resented "official intrusion into his private affairs."

Under the state law Dr. Richeson is eligible for pension. He said he had no immediate plans but probably would return to his stock farm near St. Paris.

Will Continue Fight To Prevent Burke Extradition

By The Associated Press

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., May 19—Attorney C. W. Just returned from Marquette, where Burke is serving a life sentence for the murder of Patrolman Charles Shelly, of St. Joseph, Attorney Gore said he would meet any attempt at extradition, without the prerequisite of a pardon, with a writ of habeas...

CENTENNIAL TO BE IN AUGUST

Galion Organizations Form Booster Club To Sponsor Civic Event.

Special to The Star

GALION, May 19 — Galion will have a centennial and homecoming celebration in August, according to plans made last night when more than 50 representatives of Galion's fraternal, business, religious and social oganizations met at the Elks club. The meeting was sponsored by the City's Better Business Bureau.

F. W. Biehl was named temporary chairman and was later elected president of the organization that will be known as the Galion Centennial Booster's club. Five vice presidents also were elected: John P. Schaik, C. P. Unckrich, D. G. Strother, Charles Resch and George Lisse. Mrs. Albert Cox was elected secretary, and Harry Smart, treasurer. The nominating committee included Rev. P. E. Auer, E. W. Seemann, Miss Laura Schuler, Bruno Tuscan, C. L. Ailes.

A committee, Mrs. Earl B. Padgett, John Schaik, Mrs. John T. Shea, William Snyder and D. G. Strother drew up rules and regulations by which the organization will be governed.

The executive committee will meet within the next few days and further formulate plans for the event.

dent, Elmer Schoenlaub, vice president at large; Fred A. Pawsey, vice president in charge of the Bucyrus district; Edson L. Bush, treasurer; Wilbur H. Symes, scout commissioner; Roy Waddell, chairman of the court of honor; R. F. Fletcher, chairman of troop organization; Charles H. Isaly, chairman of camping; Walter A. Dorsey, leadership training chairman; Sam Rosenberg, civil service chairman. Other committeemen include John A. Clark, George A. Bowman, Charles E. Merkel, M. L. McDaniel, Cecil Leavens, Dr. E. L. Brady, Dr. H. S. Rhu, Roy Garceau, A. W. Kette, Rev. Fr. W. J. Spickerman.

Each troop of scouts is sponsored by some institution or organization which appoints a troop committee of three or more members who are responsible for the selection of the scout master, proper facilities for meetings and the carrying out of the Scout program. More than 25 men are scoutmaster and assistants in Marion, and more than 40 men are serving as troop committeemen. These men receive no pay but are carefully chosen for their leadership and fitness to serve as leaders of boys.

A recent leadership training course was conducted for 42 men who were taught principles of Scout leadership and methods of organizing and holding the interest of troops.

Throughout the year the scouts have been active in civic service, volunteering their services to the community as traffic aids, and helpers in such projects as the Community Fund, and first aid work at fairs.

Scouting activities, which during the last 12 months operated on a budget of $7,994 must operate on the reduced figure of $6,260 during the ensuing year, an amount which is included in the Community Fund objective of $73,397.

NATIONS AIR VIEWS ON WHEAT PROBLEM

World Conference Delegates Present Varied Plans To Meet Situation.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 19—Expert views of the world wheat crisis today were emptied into the mill of the international conference after an address by Samuel R. McKelvie, head of the United States delegation, at its first open meeting today.

The conferees went into committee session to analyze the various plans for relief before submitting reports to the full conference. In rapid succession the United States, Poland, Australia and the Danubian exporters filed their views but little detail was available.

Russia and Canada have not yet placed themselves on record and observers are saying that Russia intends to hold back until she sees what the other powers propose to do.

Mr. McKelvie's speech was a resume of the situation in his country. He brought no "American plan" but he advocated reduced production as the surest way out of the difficulty.

The Polish and Australian plans are broadly similar. Each asks an agreement limiting exports. Poland has long championed the quota system under which the nations would agree to definite export limitation.

The Russian view is fraught with possibilities unless she recedes from her position announced at the recent wheat conference in Rome that Russia is entitled to her previous place in the sun as the world's largest wheat exporter.

The discussion seemed to be drifting definitely toward a means of securing reductions in wheat acreage, as a prerequisite to any agreement which may be reached.

The Russians may submit their proposals at tomorrow's open meeting.

BOARD TO MEET

C. of C. Directors To Discuss Plans with New Executive.

Preliminary plans for a program of increased activities for the Marion chamber of commerce will be discussed Wednesday night when W. D. Brown, new executive vice president of the chamber, meets the board of directors for the first time.

The meeting has been called by Karl W. Schell, president of the chamber. In employing an executive head for the chamber, it was the plan of the directors to rejuvenate the chamber and launch a drive to bring industries to the city.

COUNCIL BUYS PAINT FOR TRAFFIC LINES

Honors Former Mayor of Upper Sandusky; Commission Favors Flasher Signals.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, May 19—Bids for street marking paint were received last night at the meeting of the city council. It was decided to purchase 35 gallons of marking paint from F. Berg & Son. Other bidders were A. F. Leser, Charles Beidler, Louis Fleck, Fred Stuckey, Bowman & Buirley, Garland & Co. and The U. S. Commission Co.

A resolution in respect to the late Charles F. Tschanen, former mayor and designer of the local Harrison Smith park, was read and adopted at the meeting last night.

A report of the state public utility commission recommending that flasher lights be installed at the Sandusky avenue, Seventh and Eighth street crossings of the Pennsylvania railroad has been received by the council. Mayor S. N. Clark informed the council that at a recent meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce he explained to that body that more adequate protection was needed and that the majority of that organization favored the flasher lights over the present gates. No action was taken.

A representative of a traffic light company was present last night and demonstrated a new and improved traffic signal light. The local automobile club is contemplating the purchase of one or two additional traffic lights to be installed at Johnson and Eighth street and Sandusky avenue, or at the Wyandot avenue and Eight street or at both corners. The street committee of the council will meet the officers of the automobile club and make a definite decision before the next meeting of the council.

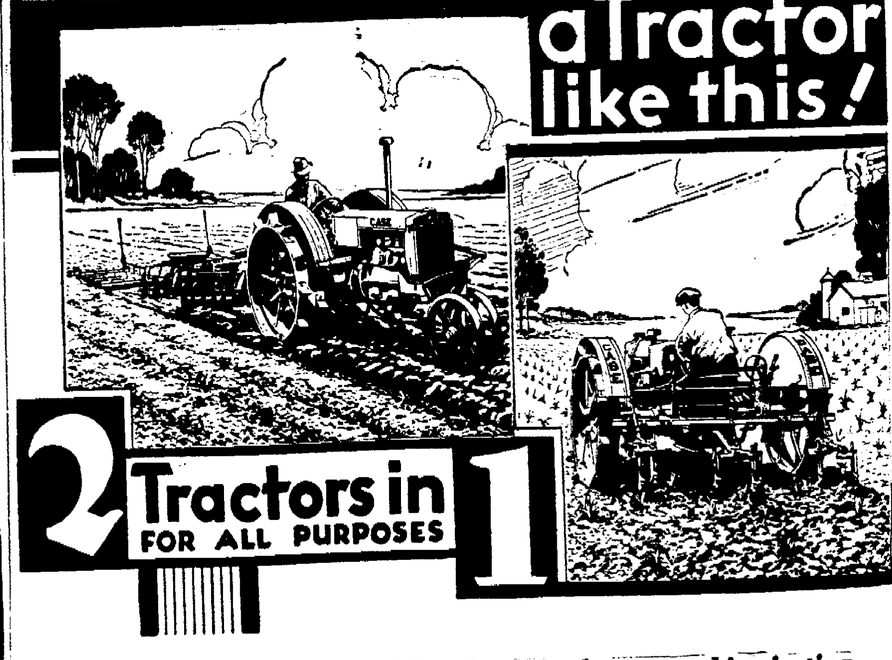
Never before a Tractor like this!



THE new Case Model "CC," which we are now showing, is not just another general purpose tractor. It is something entirely new—in fact, it is the only standard tread plowing tractor whose rear wheels can be easily and quickly set out to fit any width of rows for planting and cultivating, from an 18 and 22-inch combination up to 48 inches and wider. It can be used either as a 3 or 4 wheel plowing tractor.

If there is a tractor easier to handle and care for, we haven't seen it.

Fast, irreversible steering gear makes steering exceptionally easy. . . independent differential brakes aid in quick handling between the rows and in pivoting on either rear wheel when turning short. . . low center of gravity results in more stability and prevents side slipping. . . power lift eliminates the use of levers at the end of rows. . . handy platform and comfortable seat enable the operator to stand or sit while running the tractor.

You must see this tractor to appreciate how new and unusual it really is. There is nothing like it anywhere. Come in and look it over.

European nations want to form a trade agreement against Russia and, probably, will succeed no better than they did with their "United States of Europe" that was to tear down barriers among themselves.

The way to compete with Russia is to compete, not merely weep or growl.

If we can't beat Russia at manufacturing and in prices, Russia will beat us in the world's markets, and yelling "bolshevism" won't prevent it.

There is nothing new about the situation, except that high finance hates to admit that lowly bolshevism can beat it at its own game.

Before the war Germany was taking business away from England and other countries, as Russia is taking it away now.

AN ADMIRABLE CITIZEN is Edward F. Harkness, who continues a gigantic program of intelligent public-spirited giving by building for Columbia university a library to hold four million books.

Mr. Harkness has already given to Columbia and allied institutions $3,600,000.

Last year he gave away, chiefly for education, $31,000,000. In all he has given away more than $55,000,000, not including $2,000,000 every year given in accordance with the wishes of his deceased mother.

Here is that rare thing, a young man NOT spoiled by inherited wealth. He compares favorably with other very rich young men and women that spend their money and time in gambling houses and on the race track and "getting their pictures in the papers."

CRIMINAL DOCKET CLAIMED BY COURT

Last Case from May Grand Jury Disposed of by Guilty Plea.

Cases of all persons indicted by the May term grand jury had been disposed of at noon today, following the appearance of C. A. Haines of West Mansfield in common pleas court to enter a guilty plea to charges of obtaining money under false pretenses. He faced three indictments on the charge.

Judge George B. Scofield suspended sentencing Haines, and ordered Haines' wife to report regularly to the court bailiff concerning the defendant's activities.

Of the 12 persons indicted by the grand jury, only one presented his case to petit jury. He is Adrian Smithley, charged with nonsupport. The jury disagreed when his case was tried.

SEEKS O. S. U. PROBE

Legislator Would Investigate Agitation Against Military Training.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., May 19—A legislative investigation of reported agitation against compulsory military training at Ohio State university will be sought in a resolution prepared for introduction today by Representative Julius W. Headington, Democrat of Mt. Vernon.

He said the resolution would empower the committee to summon witnesses to give their versions of the situation.

Headington said rumors had reached him that a part of the agitation was due to the attitude of some members of the faculty towards the compulsory military training provision of the university's regulations.

He indicated the investigation was asked as a result of an attempt of the anti-military forces to call a strike of the military students several weeks ago.

HOOVER PLANS EXPENSE SLASH

Expects To Save Government Over $125,000,000 In Next Year.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 19—President Hoover expects to save between $125,000,000 and $150,000,000 next year in his governmental economy program.

Representatives of all administrative branches, including the smallest commissions, will motor to the President's Rapidan mountain retreat before the program outline has been completed. Two departments, interior and war, have had their budgets scanned in the first of the week-end conferences.

Since President Coolidge's economy program centered in the interior department, officials of that branch could find ways of saving only about $4,000,000 next year. They look for more substantial reductions in the two following years, however, bringing the total for three years to about $17,000,000.

The need for strict economy in government operations was realized keenly by President Hoover soon after income tax returns began to show a heavy falling off as a result of the business depression.

The chief executive, however, ordered that no public project which furnished employment be halted.

Three of the largest and most expensive of the government departments are scheduled for examination during the next three weks —treasury, postoffice and agriculture.

NEW AUTO FEE BILL FILED WITH SENATE

palities on the basis of pumps and 25 per cent to the counties on pump basis.

Ohio merchants had placed before the house and senate tax committees today their appeal for a personal income tax to meet the new needs of government and for retention of the present plan of assessing tangible property used in business.

The first attack on the intangible tax bill, which is the salient part of the program recommended to the committees by the special legislative tax committee, was made at a joint public hearing last night by the Ohio Council of Retail Merchants.

The intangible bill provides for a low rate on investments, capital and deposits but also embodies a new system of assessing against property used in business. This system provides for assessments upon 70 per cent. of the book value of such property in the case of merchants and transfers the assessing power from the county auditor to the state tax commission.

Uniform System Sought

Its purpose is to create a uniform method of fixing valuations. Under the present plan each county auditor fixes valuations within his own jurisdiction.

George V. Sheridan, executive director of the Ohio council advised the committees to leave the existing plan alone for two to four years and to concentrate upon obtaining as much revenue as possible from intangible wealth.

He said that the merchants favor an individual income tax as opposed to the bill recommending a tax on investments and moneys. This bill is tied up with a program which also includes a tobacco tax and might in the end, embody a general sales tax.

ELKS TO ENTERTAIN GOODWILL DRIVER

H. K. Maples To Visit Local Lodge To Promote Convention Interest.

Marion Elks Saturday night will entertain Harry K. Maples, driver of one of the three goodwill tour automobiles which are visiting Elk lodges throughout the country to stimulate interest in the national convention of the order in Seattle, Wash., July 6.

Rogers Refuses Honor Degree of University

By The Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, May 19—Will Rogers of cap and bells, refuses to don cap and gown.

Oklahoma City university was considering making Will a doctor of humanity and letters, just about the last word in honorary degrees, but the cowboy jester advised that his limit was A. D. A.—(doctor of applesauce)— from the Colagah, Okla., kindergarten.

"What are you trying to do," Rogers wired to the Daily Oklahoman, "make a joke out of college degrees; they are in bad enought as it is, without handing 'em around to comedians. The whole honorary degree thing is the 'hooey.' I saw some college giving Mellon one and he is a billion bucks short. I got too much respect for people that work and earn 'em to see 'em handed around to every notorious character."

Fred W. Cordif, Colagah civic leader, pledged Rogers the kindergarten degree.

Report Likely Today on Bender Inquiry

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., May 19—The country grand jury was expected to act today on its investigation into former State Senator George H. Benders handling of $82,000 collected by the Constitutional Law Enforcement league four years ago.

The last of the witnesses called by Assistant Prosecutor Ralph Hertz was heard yesterday and Hertz withdrew from the jury room, but Foreman Frank Bicknell declined to say whether an indictment had been voted. Hertz claims his evidence discloses that Bender appropriated more than $20,000 of the league's funds.

Seek To Oust Married Women in School Corps

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., May 19—The question of whether Cleveland schools shall continue to employ married women as teachers came to a showdown today with the wedded teachers winners of the initial fight.

The two women members of the education committee of the board of education yesterday outvoted Alfred A Benesch to recommend defeat of Benesch's proposal to bar married women from the payroll except in exceptional cases. The resolution comes before the board at a special meeting today.

Former Marion Man Drowns in Florida

Harley Allensworth, 28, former resident of Marion, drowned in a channel off the coast at Miami, Fla., last Wednesday, according to word received here by his uncle, J. W. Smith of 152 Blaine avenue. Funeral services were held at Miami last Friday.

Allensworth was working on a dredge in the channel. An accident on the dredge caused five men working on it to jump into the channel. Allensworth was the only one to drown.

He leaves a wife and two children, a sister in Pontiac, Mich., and a sister and father in Casper, Wyo.

SCHERFF STORE JOINS GUILD

Local Furniture Firm To Conduct Business on New Plan.

The H. C. Scherff Furniture Co will reopen its store on west Center street Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week after extensive remodeling and a replacement of stock. Simultaneously, the company will publicly announce its connection with Guild Home Furnishings, an organization with stores in various cities that are designated to distribute furniture that it has approved and upon which it has placed its label as a guarantee of quality.

One of the outstanding features of the remodeled store is a completely furnished six-room house within the store. This "house" will be a permanent part of the store where room furnishings may be demonstrated.

The Scherff Furniture Co. will be exlusive Guild dealers in Marion and vicinity. A representative of the company, with headquarters in Grand Rapids, Mich., will be in Marion for the reopening.

Another feature of the opening will be a 1,400 pound cake, which will be cut Saturday at 1:30 p. m by Mayor L. Don Jones and distributed to the store visitors. A large piece of the cake will be taken to the Marion County Children's home.

A treasure hunt in which store visitors will hunt for articles bearing numbers corresponding with numbers given them when they enter the store will be another part of the program.

The company also will celebrate the twenty-sixth anniversary of its founding in connection with the reopening.

Hisses Disrupt Good-Will Day Meeting in N. Y.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, May 19—A meeting of 500 persons in celebration of "international good-will day" ended in discord last night.

It broke up with hisses, cheers and organ music when James W. Gerard formerly ambassador to Germany, who was presiding, refused to put a motion offered by John Haynes Holmes, clergyman, condemning the current army air maneuvers as "monstrous, arrogant and shameless."

The meeting was at town hall, a civic forum on west Forty-third street.

For several hours George Gordon Battle Channing Pollock Rabbi Israel Goldstein and Mrs. James L. Laidlaw denounced war as brutal and uncivilized.

Then Mr. Holmes offered a resolution petitioning President Hoover to stop the air maneuvers and to prevent this "desecration of international good will" and "wanton expense in a period of acute economic distress."

In refusing to put the motion Mr. Gerard said that the audience should have faith enough in America to realize that the maneuvers were not hostile gestures.

"We are at war right now with a nation of murderers who have destroyed religion," he added.

Interruptions here became frequent. One heckler called for a rising vote on the resolution and many in the audience stood up. The organ was played in an effort to stop the verbal confusion.

Expert Robber? Oh, No! Court Says He's Amateur

By The Associated Press
BELLINGHAM, Wash., May 19—Efforts of the state to qualify Frank M. Blakeslee as an expert robber so he could testify in the trial of Al Boyd and Olaf Johnson, accused of possessing burglar tools, were unsuccessful yesterday.

The court ruled that because Blakeslee had taken part in only two burglaries and was captured in both he was not an expert.

Pitching Keeps Giants Well Up in National League Race

RUN IN EIGHTH GIVES PRESBY NINE VICTORY OVER REFORMED 3-2; ST. PAUL WINS AGAIN 5-3

SHORT SHIP RACING MEET IN JUNE WILL PAY $5,800 PURSES

First Marion Harness Event of Summer To Open on June 9.

Purses totalling $5,800 will be awarded at the first meeting of the Ohio short ship races at the fairground track here from June 9 to 13. Four days racing will be held in the first meeting. The second Marion meet is scheduled for Aug. 3 to 8. The amount of purses was announced yesterday by Frank M. Foster, an official of the Marion Racing Association.

A previously announced plan to light the track for night racing has been abandoned for the present. Should the June meeting be as successful as expected, Foster said, the track will probably be lighted for night racing in the August meeting.

Steve Phillips of Xenia as starting judge and Joseph McGraw of Washington, Pa., as presiding judge will be the race officials this year.

Approximately 25 horses are now quartered in the fairground stables for daily workouts.

The complete program for the June meeting as announced by Foster follows:

Tuesday: 2:18 pace, $400; 2:24 trot, $400; 2:11 pace, $400.

Wednesday: 2:18 trot, $400; 2:21 pace, $400; Free-for-all trot, $500; and three-year-old trot, $400.

Thursday, 2:22 trot, $400; 2:15 pace, $400; 2:15 trot, $400 and three-year-old pace, $400.

Friday: Free-for-all pace, $500; 2:24 pace, $400, and 2:12 trot, $400.

Central Junior Is Easy Winner Over Greenwood

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

ST. PAUL LUTHERANS continued yesterday for the second week in a row to surprise the followers of Sunday school league No. 2 recreation baseball by turning in a victory when a defeat had been expected. St. Paul thumped the Wesley M. E. nine on the chin in the latest upset, defeating the Methodists 5 to 3. The second victory gives St. Paul the leadership of the circuit for at least another week. The First Presbyterians, who yesterday defeated First Reformed 3-2 in an eight inning battle are tied with St. Paul in percentage but the latter has played only one game to two for the Lutherans.

Forest Lawn Presbyterians, preseason favorites to cop the league bunting, waited until the last half of the sixth to run in five runs and defeat the Central Christian Seniors 7 to 3. United Brethren gave the Christian No. 1 team plenty of opposition, losing to the Christians 6 to 5. The losers outhit the winners by a 4 to 1 margin.

St. Paul displayed considerable power in handing the Wesley team its second consecutive setback, scoring in three of the seven innings. Don Lindsey was hit fairly hard in some spots but kept the hits well enough scattered to shut out the losers until the final innings. Wesley ran in all of its three markers in a seventh inning rally.

The First Presbyterians and First Reformed nines staged the most bitter battle of the day's schedule on the Lincoln park diamond. The Presbyterians finally won out after an eighth inning struggle.

The Presbyterians took the lead by scoring a run in the second but lost it as Reformed jumped on Shoemaker for a pair of runs in the third. Bobby Zahn, Presbyterian center fielder, smashed one for the circuit in the fifth to deadlock the score at 2-all. Neither team scored in the sixth or seventh.

In the extra inning the Presbyterians allowed two men to get on with none down but worked themselves out of the hole without any Reformed scores.

Pohler hit to start off the Presbyterian half and went to second on Oberlander's bingle. While Reformed was busier trying to figure out a means of halting the rally than they were in watching the bases Pohler slid into third for a stolen base and then scored the winning run on Hennings hit to shortstop.

One Big Inning

Forest Lawn trailed the Christian Seniors until the sixth when Geissler, shortstop, and Manahan, left fielder, watched a fly ball drop between them for a hit. The hit was indirectly responsible for four Forest Lawn runs and the ball game.

Scores by innings and batteries:

United Brethren ..... 002 102 0—5
Christian No. 1 ..... 002 040 0—6

United Brethren, Corrigan, Zuspan and Nobil; Christian No. 1, Rank and A. I. Hinklin.

ASHLAND WINS FIRST

By The Associated Press

ASHLAND, O., May 19—Ashland college won its first baseball game in five starts by defeating Kenyon, 3 to 1, here yesterday. Lefty Ginerich let Kenyon down with three hits.

FAVORITES TODAY

After a week's delay on account of rain the No. 1 Sunday school league will make another attempt to start activity today with a quartet of games on the schedule. The favorite for today's games follow:

Epworth Seniors to defeat Epworth Bishops.

St. Mary's to defeat Epworth No. 1.

Trinity Baptist to defeat Lee Street.

Calvary to defeat Lutherans.

All games except the final one in the list should be exceptionally close and hard fought. Breaks may decide all of them.

ONE HARD RIGHT AND RAY CARPENTER PUTS MARCELLE TO SLEEP

"Grudge" Battle Over in Second Round; Jensen Pins Frank Higgins.

BY KARL McELROY

Ol' one-punch Carpenter. That was all that was needed last night to settle the argument between Ray Carpenter and Dug Marcelle which featured the main go of a combined wrestling and boxing program at the Steam Shovel gym.

Carpenter let Marcelle punch him at will during the first round while he kept his chin covered up with both mits. Marcelle didn't know what to do about it and after 18 seconds of the second round Carpenter found his opening and a lightning right to the jaw placed Dug on the canvas for somewhat longer than the required count of 10.

Bob Jensen, University of Iowa football star, had but little trouble in disposing of Frank Higgins, the Nashville rubber man, in straight falls. The first came in 15 minutes and followed a series of front head locks and a black slam. Jessen used the same hold to win the second in 13 minutes.

Johnny Gerry outpointed Phil O'Dowd of Columbus to win the judges' decision in a six-round boxing exhibition. According to the judges, Gerry carried three rounds, two were even and O'Dowd one. The Columbus boy found Gerry a hard target to hit.

Carl Beightler, the Marysville rough boy, knocked out Ray Hamilton of Marion after four minutes of their scheduled 30-minute wrestling match. Hamilton was slammed on his neck and the pinning was easy.

CARDINALS SET DOWN 6-3 AS BILL WALKER HURLS CLASSY GAME

Indians Take Tenth Straight Beating from Philadelphia Athletics, 10-7.

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

John J. McGraw predicted in the training season that the new ball would have a marked influence on the National league race and made his plans accordingly.

"All I need," the Giants' pilot said at San Antonio, "is pitching, and I'll get that with this new ball. It's going to make a big difference You'll see."

How well McGraw sized up the situation is admirably illustrated in the standing today. Largely because of hurling the Giants are running a powerful second in the National league, a bare half-game behind the St. Louis Cardinals.

Pitching Is Good

McGraw's moundsmen have gone the route in 14 out of 24 games, the highest average in either league. Second in that respect are the Boston Braves, whose pitchers have started and finished 14 out of 25. The Philadelphia Athletics, with 13 complete games out of 24, hold the best record in the American.

Another Giant, Bill Walker, pitched the full nine yesterday in setting the Cardinals down, 6 to 3. The crack lefthander allowed only six hits and none of the runs off him was earned. The victory gave the Giants two out of three from the 1930 champions.

Ed Brandt, the Braves' big southpaw, who could win only four victories out of 41 games in which he participated last year, scored his sixth straight triumph at the expense of the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 1. The lone score off him was the result of a homer by Phillips, the Pirates rookie catcher.

Herman Hits Hard

Led by Babe Herman, the Brooklyn Robins enjoyed a field day against the luckless Cincinnati Reds. The score was 14 to 4, and Herman cracked a homer, triple, double and single.

Don Hurst's pinch single off Jakie May drove in the winning run as the Phillies scored twice in the ninth to nose out the Chicago Cubs, 5 to 4. Buzz Arlett hit his seventh homer of the year in the second inning.

The Chicago White Sox turned the neatest trick of the day in the American league when they rallied for six runs in the ninth round to beat Boston, 9 to 8. Simons, a pinch hitter, drove in the winning runs with a lusty double after two were out.

Cleveland Still Loses

There was no sign of a let-up on the part of the Athletics as they continued their whirlwind tour of the west. They defeated Cleveland for their tenth straight victory, 10 to 7, taking a firmer hold on first place and sending the Indians down to sixth. Foxx, Simmons and Cochrane each got three hits.

The New York Yankees kept pace by scoring a 20 to 8 victory over the Detroit Tigers and squaring their four-game series. It was a wild one, the Yankees batting around in three innings against four various and assorted Tiger pitchers. Even Mark Koenig, bespectacled shortstop, took a turn on the mound before it was over.

May Adopt No-Foul Rule for Schmeling Title Go

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 19—A no-foul rule, with possible reservations, will prevail when Max Schmeling defends his heavyweight championship from "Young" Stribling here July 3.

Announcement that the title would not be decided on a foul was made by the Cleveland Boxing commission yesterday. The commission, however, considered amending its decision so that in the event a foul forces the end of the bout, heavy cash penalties might be inflicted.

TOLEDO HALTS WIN STREAK OF RED BIRD NINE BY 6-5 SCORE

St. Paul Holds Lead, but Drops Another to Millers, 5 to 3.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 19—St. Paul and Minneapolis today were finishing with their first series of the American Association season, and the Saints were glad of it.

St. Paul was still leading the league as it went into action against Milwaukee today, but losing three out of four to the Millers left it only a few points in front. The Millers scored their third triumph yesterday, 5 to 3, after ten innings of battling.

Toledo and Sergeant George finally halted the winning streak of the Columbus Red Birds, 6 to 4. The Sarge was hit hard, but was able to squeeze the Birds off in the pinches. Archie Campbell hurled well for Columbus until the seventh when his support flopped and let in four runs on three errors. Hal King hit his fourth home run in three days and went into a tie with his teammate, Pat Crawford, for the homer leadership of the league, at eight each.

Louisville had to go eleven innings to get a 6 to 5 verdict over Indianapolis.

The Milwaukee-Kansas City game was played as part of Sunday's doubleheader, but will have to be played again as it ended in a 5-5 tie.

While Milwaukee was at St. Paul today, Kansas City had moved into Minneapolis. Toledo had one more at Columbus, and Indianapolis was due to finish up at Louisville today.

NEW SOFTBALL TEAM

Another organization has succumbed to the lure of recreation baseball. The police and firemen of the city have organized a softball team and have announced a willingness to meet all comers. The police-firemen team announced the booking of the first game of the season for Friday of this week. The Red Men's lodge will furnish the opposition but the diamond has not yet been named.

WILL TRY COMEBACK

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 19—Al Singer, former lightweight champion, is going to attempt a come-back under new management. Singer, who lost his title when he was knocked out by Tony Canzoneri, announced he had paid his manager, Hym Caplin, $15,000 for release from a three-year contract Caplin held on his services. His brother will act as his manager in the future, Singer said.

MAY THE 25TH WILL GO DOWN IN HISTORY FOR THE WIDOW ZANDER IF WHAT TOM CARR PROMISED COMES TRUE - THE TOM CARR STOCK ON THAT DAY JOINS THE GIGANTIC CONSOLIDATION - HER STOCK WILL THEN BE WORTH TWENTY-FIVE TIMES WHAT SHE PAID FOR IT - SHE HAS $20,000.- INVESTED - ON THAT DAY SHE WILL BE WORTH A COOL HALF MILLION -
I WONDER IF HENRIETTA IS FOOLING ME - NO MATTER WHEN I TRY TO MAKE A DATE WITH HER - SHE ALWAYS HAS ANOTHER ENGAGEMENT -
ONCE I THOUGHT SHE CARED FOR ME BUT I'M BEGINNING TO BELIEVE THAT ANY ONE WHO CAN MAKE AN IMPRESSION ON HER HEART - SHOULD TAKE OUT A PATENT FOR STONE CUTTING - WHY IS SHE AVOIDING ME? THE LAST TIME I CALLED - THE PHONE WAS BUSY - SHE MUST HAVE BEEN TALKING FOR A HALF AN HOUR - I'LL TRY AGAIN - AND SEE IF SHE'LL GO FOR A LITTLE RIDE WITH ME THIS AFTERNOON -
NO - I'M SORRY, BIMBO - I HAVE A SPLITTING HEADACHE - I COULDN'T THINK OF GOING FOR A RIDE - THIS AFTERNOON - IT WOULD BE QUITE IMPOSSIBLE -

TOOTS AND CASPER — BY JIMMY MURPHY

I JUST SAW OUR FRIEND, COLONEL HOOFER, ARM IN ARM WITH MISS MEADOWS, OVER IN THE PARK, TOOTS!
THOSE TWO ARE GETTING PRETTY THICK, CASPER! WELL, MRS. HOOFER FLEW THE COOP AND SHE CAN'T EXPECT HIM TO SIT HOME AND HOLD HIS THUMBS!
HOW WONDERFUL THAT OUR PATHS HAVE CROSSED, COLONEL! YOU'RE SIMPLY IRRESISTIBLE! I CAN'T LIVE WITHOUT YOU - COME, LET'S FLY AWAY FROM HERE TOGETHER! JUST YOU AND I - LIFE TO US WILL BE A PARADISE - HAPPY DAYS HAVE COME TO STAY - MISS MEADOWS!! YOU FORGET I'M A MARRIED MAN!
-BUT YOUR WIFE IS TOO OLD FOR YOU! SHE NEVER APPRECIATED YOU! BESIDES, DIDN'T SHE LEAVE YOU SEVEN WEEKS AGO? SHE HAD NO FEELINGS FOR YOU - WHY SHOULD YOU CONSIDER HER NOW?
ER-ER- I MUST BE GOING NOW, MR. MEADOWS!
I PUT MISS MEADOWS IN A TAXI AND SHE SAID FOR ME TO PHONE HER MY ANSWER AT TWO O'CLOCK TOMORROW AFTERNOON! SHE WANTS ME TO ELOPE WITH HER! GOOD HEAVENS!
WHAT WILL COLONEL HOOFER'S ANSWER BE?

MARKET SALES GO INTO SLUMP

Rails React Favorably as Selling Pressure Is Lifted in Morning.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 19—The stock market was given respite from selling pressure, after eight sessions of almost steady decline, during the early hours of today's session, but a few isolated weak spots cropped out during the afternoon and the market again turned soggy.

The lifting of pressure against the rails was a notable development during the morning, and several issues rallied 2 or 3 points. Several prominent industrials were also carried higher, but lost their gains as selling appeared in a few selected issues after midday. The upturn of the morning was negotiated in active trading, transfers in the first half hour aggregating 500,000 shares, but the market turned dull as the session wore on.

U. S. Steel rose 1 1-4 points to 100 1-4, then slipped off a couple of points from the top. American Can sold up 2 points, then lost its gain, and 2-point advances in National Biscuit and Westinghouse Electric were modified. In the rails, issues up 2 to 3 points or more included Northern Pacific, Great Northern preferred, New York Central, Atchison, Rock Island, and Union Pacific. J. I. Case was a weak feature, dropping more than 6 points to below 65, compared to peak prices above 500 in 1928 and 1929. Directors meet for dividend action Thursday. Issues selling off 2 points or so included Woolworth, Sears, Union Carbide, Johns Mansville, American Tobacco and Liggett & Myers. Warner Bros. also was heavy.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meat, Grain, Livestock

Eggs were being quoted at from 19 to 24 cents today, a drop of one cent under the price of yesterday. Although Cleveland markets were reporting a drop in butter prices, no change was reported on the local markets this morning. A decrease is looked for by Wednesday.

Fruit and vegetable prices were steady today. No change was reported with large supplies of all kinds of both and with a demand about normal. Specials were scarce and dealers in the main, were asking the standard quoted prices.

New potatoes were holding at from 5 to 8 cents and old stock from 45 to 55 cents a peck. Old potatoes are becoming more scarce and the quality is not good. A few more Georgia strawberries are coming on the market although the bulk of the supply continues to come from Alabama. The price holds at from 20 to 30 cents a quart.

LEG BROKEN

Golf Club Caddy Injured in Mishap While Watching Ball Game

Jack Schelb, 14, caddy at the Mar-O-Del golf club who suffered a compound fracture of his right leg in an accident on the course Saturday afternoon, is resting comfortably at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Schelb of Cherry street.

Jack was sitting on the iron handle of a lawn roller near the edge of the golf course, watching a ball game between a group of boys on an adjoining lot. The handle support, a wooden board, gave way and the heavy handle fell on his leg, breaking two bones.

He is a student at Central Junior High school.

ENTER STORE

Burglars who gained an entrance to the room by means of a rear hall, took about $13 from the cash register at the Milk Shake confectionery on west Center street sometime Sunday night, according to a report made to the police yesterday.

GRAINS RALLY AFTER START

Irregular Opening Gives Way to Upturn in Later Trading.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 19—After an irregular start, grains moved upward early today. Liverpool dispatches said wheat demand was improving, that stocks in six chief European ports had been reduced almost half compared with a month ago, and that estimated planting this season in Australia showed almost 5,000,000 acres curtailment. Opening ½ cent off to ⅛@⅜ up, wheat afterward scored additional gains. Corn started ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher and subsequently rose all around.

Rallying power shown by securities helped to strengthen the wheat market. Purchasing of wheat was stimulated also by word of heavy frosts in Canada as being likely to delay germination. Overnight takings of North American wheat for shipment to Europe were said to have been of greater volume than of late, and some United States wheat was reported as having been disposed of at Antwerp, where stocks were only 526,000 bushels against 1,628,000 a month ago.

Corn and oats advanced with wheat. Arrivals of corn in Chicago amounted to only 22 cars, and receipts at St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha were also meager. Speculative buyers found future delivery offerings light.

Provisions were bearishly affected by official reports indicating little prospect that either foreign or domestic demand would improve during the next five months. Lard sold at a new low record for the season.

NEXT MEETING TO BE AT BELLEFONTAINE

King's Daughters of District Select Place for Next Session.

Bellefontaine was chosen as the place for holding the next annual meeting of the group convention of the Ohio branch, International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons at the meeting held Thursday at Mt. Gilead. Members of the Lend A Hand circle, which was organized four years ago, were hostesses at the one day session held in Trinity Methodist church. About 85 members and guests were in attendance, including about 35 members from the Marion circles. The group is made up of circles from Marion Morrow, Hardin, Logan and Crawford counties.

Miss Gladys M. Howard, president of the hostess circle, presided. Reports of the work done by the circles were given and the program included a talk by the state president, Mrs. Edward Hughes of Bucyrus on "Our Work, Our Blessings and Our Opportunities." Mrs. Walter A. Dorsey of Marion presided for a round table discussion on the topic, "Requisites of a Good Circle." Those taking part in the program were Merrill Ault, Mrs. A. C. Duncan of Mt. Gilead, Mrs. William Ackerman, Mrs. Dale Lawrence and Mrs. French Crow of Marion, Miss Sara Walden, Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Carrie McLaughlin of Bucyrus, Mrs. Isaac McElroy of Kenton. Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. E. G. Corwin of Mt. Gilead and Mrs. L. V. Ault of that place extended greetings to the visitors. The response was made by Mrs. Frank Jackson of Bucyrus and Miss Ethel Breese of Mt. Gilead sang a group of solos.

Announcement was made of the state meeting to be held at Fremont in October.

Man Sentenced from Here Given Parole

Benjamin Skinner, sentenced to Mansfield reformatory early last year, is one of 141 prisoners of the institution scheduled for parole in the next few weeks. Skinner probably will be freed July 15, according to Associated Press news dispatches from Mansfied.

Skinner was sentenced to the reformatory from Marion county probate court after he had been found guilty of a charge of breaking into a box car here and stealing $20 worth of dishes. He was not a resident of Marion at the time.

Wayne Poultry Supplies Triumph Again!

Here is a letter received from a local farmer who is well satisfied with results obtained from Wayne Poultry Products:

Marion, Ohio.
Route No. 8.
May 6, 1931

Allied Mills, Inc.,
Fort Wayne, Ind.
Gentlemen:

We have 200 Leghorns here on Wayne Egg Mash which gave us a 60 to 65% egg production all winter. They were raised on Wayne Starter and Wayne Grower last year.

We placed 710 Leghorn eggs from our own flock in the incubator this spring and hatched 612 chicks which shows excellent fertility and hatchability from Wayne Egg Mash, after rapid growth and heavy egg production.

We placed these chicks on Wayne All Mash Starter and at 2 weeks of age have lost 24 chicks. Chicks were not culled from incubator when placed in brooder. We have used other feeds but find Wayne gives best results.

Yours Truly,
Fess Cochran

LAUNDRY BUILDING DAMAGED BY FIRE

Loss Set at $400 to Structure on Monroe Street; Chief Investigates.

A blaze early this morning did $400 damage to the M. & B. Laundry building on Monroe street and $50 damage to a house next door.

Shortly after 4 a. m. a passerby saw smoke pouring from the attic windows of the laundry and called the fire department. Firemen from the Nos. 2 and 3 stations who responded to the call, found the floor of the attic ablaze and the fire creeping up to the roof. After nearly an hour's fighting the blaze was extinguished without getting below the attic floor.

The residence of Mrs. Eliza Lares, next door to the laundry, was damaged by the flames to the extent of about $50.

The building, which is the property of M. N. Oberlander of Bucyrus, had not been in use as a laundry for several months, the building being used as merely a station where the articles to be washed were taken before being shipped to Delaware to be laundered.

All electric switches had been pulled, Fire Chief McFarland said this morning eliminating the defective wire theory. An investigation is being made by the chief today.

Built entirely of wood a cotton press more than 100 years old in a North Carolina city still is in condition for use.

60 CASES REPORTED

Measles Increasing in Morrow County, Commissioner Says.

MT. GILEAD, May 19—Nea[illegible] 60 cases of measles have been reported to Health Commissioner [illegible] L. Pierce in the last two weeks. Many exposures have been made and the crest of the measles wave has not yet been reached in the opinion of the commissioner. More than half of the present cases are in Mt. Gilead. Dr. Pierce said the rapid spread has been due to the indifference of parents who do not observe the children for the preliminary symptoms.

Lists Arrival Dates of Birds for Summer Stay

An interesting table showing the dates of the migration of birds familiar to this section of the country was presented by Allen Conger, head of the biological department of Ohio Wesleyan university when he spoke at a meeting sponsored by the Burroughs Nature club here Friday night.

Winter residents he stated leave between April 20 and 30. These include the purple finch, tree sparrow, Junco, northern shrike, brown creeper, golden-crowned kinglet and red-breasted nuthatch.

Permanent residents listed by Mr. Conger are quail, hairy woodpecker, downy woodpecker, red-headed woodpecker, red-bellied woodpecker, prairie horned lark, screech owl, crow, blue jay, cedar waxwing, cardinal, goldfinch, song sparrow, chickadee, tufted titmouse, white-breasted nuthatch, Carolina wren and robin

The killdeer, bronzed grackle, red-winged blackbird, mourning dove and bluebird return to this vicinity March 1 to 15, the speaker stated Dates for the return of other birds are as follows:

March 10 to 25, marsh hawk, red-shouldered hawk, rusty grackle flicker, Phoebe, fox sparrow, March 15 to 30, turkey vulture kingfisher, cowbird migrant shrike. March 20 to April 5, sapsucker, field sparrow, vesper sparrow. March 25 to April 10, bittern, chipping sparrow, purple martin, April 5 to 15, white-throated sparrow Savanna sparrow, swamp sparrow, Louisiana water-thrush, brown thrasher, hermit thrush; April 10 to 20, solitary sandpiper, chimney swift, (goldfinch), barn swallow, ruby-crowned kinglet, blue-gray gnat catcher; April 15 to 25, spotted sandpiper, (red-headed woodpecker), bank swallow, rough-winged swallow, house wren.

April 20 to 30, Baltimore oriole orchard oriole, grasshopper sparrow, Henslow's sparrow, white-crowned sparrow, myrtle warbler, yellow warbler, black and white warbler, ovenbird, warbling vireo, yellow-throated vireo, catbird, wood thrush; April 25 to May 5, whip-poorwill, kingbird, crested flycatcher, bobolink, indigo bird, rose-breasted grosbeak, black-throated blue warbler, black-throated green warbler, palm warbler, northern yellow-throat, red-start, northern water-thrush, scarlet tanager, solitary vireo, red-eyed vireo, olive-backed thrush, veery; May 10, nighthawk, hummingbird, wood pewee, Acadian flycatcher, Nashville warbler, Parulu warbler, blackburnian warbler, Canadian warbler, yellow-breasted chat; May 5 to 15, black-billed cuckoo, yellow-billed cuckoo, alder flycatcher black-polled warbler and mourning warbler.

Divorces come about, many times, because men and women at 40 are not the same persons they were at 25.

DOGS KILL SHEEP VALUED AT $169

Claims Increase as Marauders Raid Marion County Flocks.

Sheep claims, which for weeks have been negligible, last week amounted to $169.50, according to a report filed with the county commissioners with County Dog Warden Dale Rhoads.

Claims were filed by B. B. Porter of Agosta R. F. D. No. 2 for $15 for six lambs killed; Ben Kreis of Marion R. F. D. No. 3 for $20 for three sheep killed; Simeon Baker of near Marion for $95 for 20 sheep killed; Ralph Bentley of Marion R. F. D. No. 2 for $39.50 for three sheep killed and seven injured.

Five dogs were impounded during the week, the report shows.

13 Persons Appear in Traffic Court Here

Thirteen violaters of the traffic laws fell into the hands of the police last week.

Two drew fines of $2, one for double parking and one for parking too near a fire hydrant. Another paid a fine of $5 for driving past a red light. Most of the tags issued by the patrolmen was for parking in the non-parking zones.

LICENSES EXPIRE

Cigaret Permits Must Be Renewed by Wednesday Night.

Marion county cigaret vendors who make sales after May 25 without having renewed their licenses, or making application, are subject to a penalty of $200, four times the cost of a license. This warning was made today by County Auditor Earl E. Thomas, who has asked dealers to make their applications by Wednesday night, allowing him time to prepare the licenses before the deadline next Monday night.

A majority of cigaret dealers already have made application for license renewals. For retail sale of cigarets, the annual license fee is $50. Wholesalers must purchase a $200 license.

A Case Where Superlatives are Facts

Men and women who visit the vast Richman Brothers tailoring shops and see thousands of highly specialized needle workers sewing clothes are frankly astounded by the enormous size, the morale, the sincerity and the spirit of the great spectacle that greets their eyes.

Richman Brothers Clothes are the fruits of the world's greatest clothing manufacturing business . . . the product of minds and hands . . . hearts and souls . . . all working together, all bound together by a common bond of mutual interest.

Is it anything but reasonable to expect the world's greatest clothing manufacturing organization . . . selling direct from factory without middlemen's profits . . . to produce the world's greatest clothing values? Here is one instance where superlatives are facts.

For concrete evidence, see our new medium and tropical worsteds. You'll be pleasantly surprised to learn how cool and comfortable summer can be in these clothes and how smart you can look at the same time.

We have them in every man's size . . . . in all the new and desirable colors, styles and patterns . . . . and we hope you like to pick from a large selection, for ours is the largest in town . . . . at the single price of $22.50.

Rash on Babies Developed into Eczema. Healed by Cuticura.

"When my babies were three months old a fine rash broke out on their faces, chests and on their shoulders. It later developed into eczema. After a while the eruptions scaled over and were unsightly and very annoying. They scratched and were very cross and fretful, caused by the burning and itching. It also disturbed their sleep at night.

"Our doctor advised Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using them one week desired results were apparent. I continued using them until they were completely healed, which was about a month or six weeks." (Signed) Mrs. John Appleton, Rt. 9, Logansport, Ind.

FINDS AN EFFECTIVE TREATMENT FOR ARTHRITIS

A Pasadena man who had been bed-ridden with Arthritis (stiff joints) for three years reports that he secured a prescription which restored him to an active life. He then supplied the formula to a number of others who were afflicted with Arthritis, Neuritis, Lumbago, Gout, Sciatica and various forms of Rheumatism, and they, too, reported their first relief. Now he wants all who suffer from any form of Rheumatism caused from excessive uric acid to know about this wonderful prescription, and says he will gladly send a trial supply of the treatment, with full particulars, to anyone who writes him. Just send name and address to Renton, Desk 283, Station C, Pasadena, Calif. Do this today.—Adv.

CLOWNS COMING

Robbins Brothers' circus, which will appear here Friday, May 22, presents an especially large and entertaining array of clowns, regarded by many persons as the spice of a circus program.

The Robbins clowns are under the direction of Kenneth Waite, who has the reputation of being the highest price fun maker of the world. They are all dressed up in clown costumes imported from Europe and their walk-arounds-their songs, their pantomime and their gasticulations all furnish plenty of laughs to the young and old who witness them go through their peculiar antics. To be a clown requires a master's knowledge of pantomime and all are trained painstakingly to get the most laughs from the audience.—Adv.

"DREAMS" TRACED

Potash and Iron Found to Be Vital Elements in Good Cigar.

By The Associated Press

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 19—The "pipe dreams" which flow from smoking a good cigar are due largely to the presence of potash and iron.

Without these chemicals, it is found at Pennsylvania State college, the smoke loses its seductiveness and the cigar becomes a distillation retort brewing much bitterness. These studies of the burning qualities of cigar leaf tobacco are made by Dr. D. E. Haley, professor of soil and phytochemistry.

One of his helpers is a robot with glass throat and water lungs, which puffs cigars mechanically with the rhythm of a living smoker. Water flowing through a valve governs the timing of the puffs. Test tubes arranged like the pipes of an organ catch and analyze everything in the smoke.

The potash helps the burning, the iron completes the combustion. It must be present in the leaf in combination with the potash—or with similar compounds.

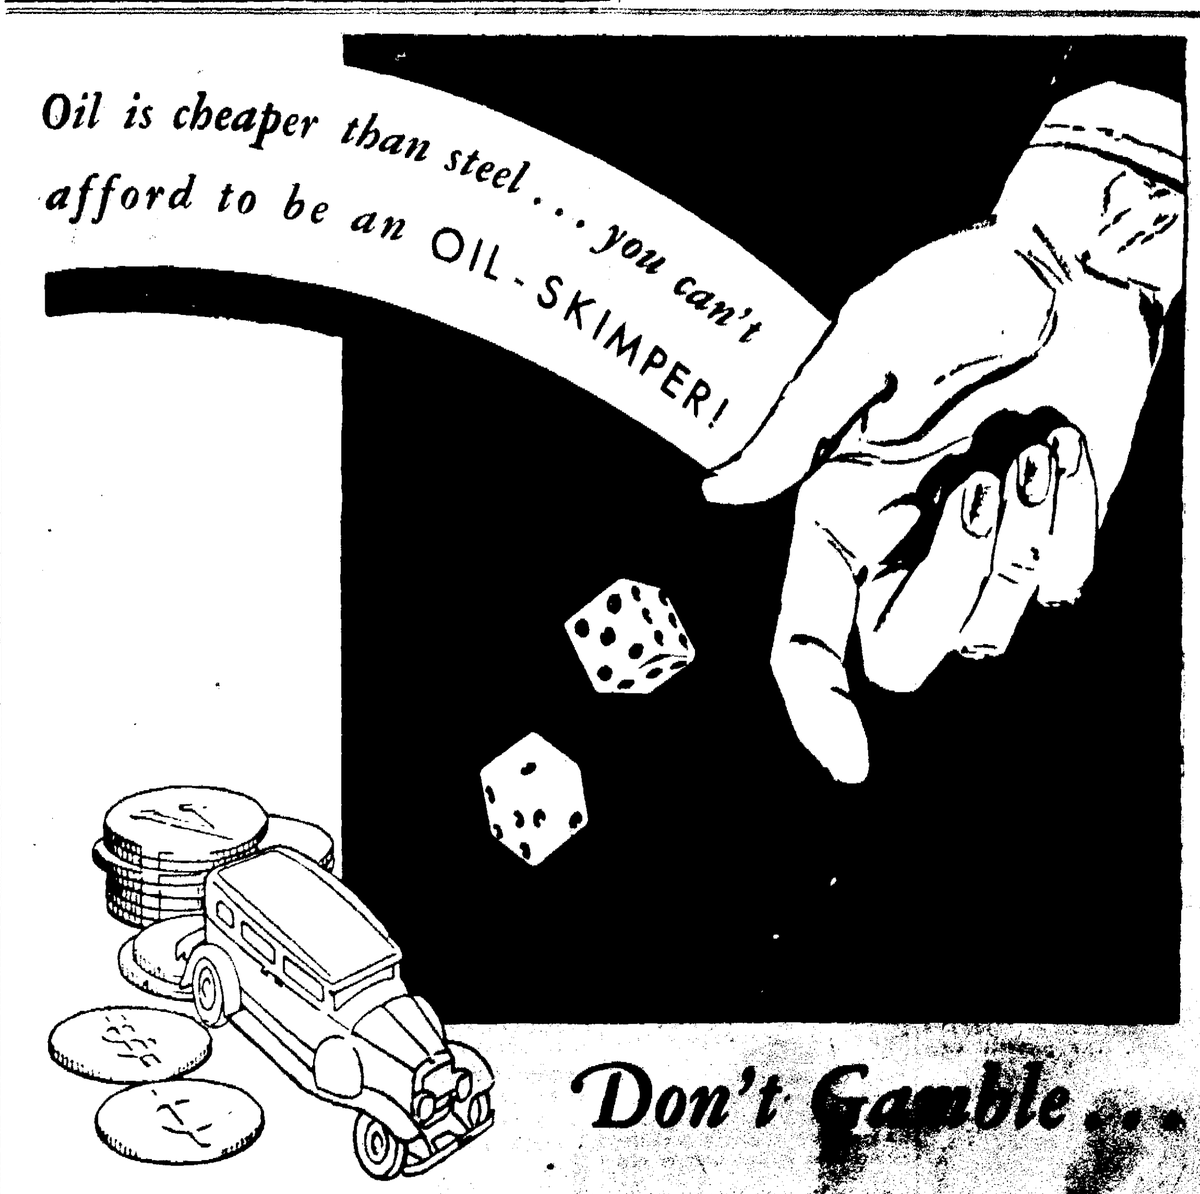
Don't put it off now. These will go as quickly as the first lot. Then there'll be no more. You never in all your life saw prettier Gliders at $15 a piece more money.



Oil is cheaper than steel... you can't afford to be an OIL-SKIMPER!
Don't Gamble...
the price of your car against small change!
EVERYTHING to lose, nothing but a few cents to gain ... such are the odds against "saving" on oil at the expense of your motor.
To be really economical, use plenty of the very best oil... and change it regularly. You will be repaid many times over by savings in car depreciation, to say nothing of pleasanter motoring. Oil changing is made easy for you by "Sohio Service," and Sohio Motor Oil, free from harmful wax, makes things easy for your motor.

Happy Bakers To End Series of Programs

By Brush-Moore Leased Wire.

THE HAPPY BAKERS conclude their series of programs over the NBC-WEAF network at 8:30 p. m. with a program of songs which have highlighted the broadcasts during the past year.

The Brush Men, heretofore heard on Saturday nights over the WJZ chain, will take the place left vacant by the Happy Bakers.

A new program commemorating the 500th anniversary of the martyrdom of Joan Of Arc, will come over NBC's WJZ hookup at 9 p. m. An elaborate musical background will be provided by a full symphony orchestra

Nine sensitive superheterodyne receivers are to be used by the Columbia chain in its pickup of the army air maneuvers over New York City, May 23.

IT'S A FACT—

All the dance bands in New York broadcasting studios are succumbing, no matter how unwillingly, to the craze for Cuban music. Orchestra leaders say that along with the Rumba music, have come new musical instruments.

Memories of America's biggest song hits will continue when Julia Sanderson and Frank Crumit sing over the NBC-WEAF air lanes at 7 p. m., in another of their popular programs.

Columbia network presents at 8:30 p. m., another program featuring Howard Barlow Symphony Orchestra in a program of concert numbers by Mozart and Liszt.

Miriam Hopkins, stage and screen star, will be guest of honor on The Radio Playhouse program over the WABC-Columbia hookup at 9:30 p. m.

Meyer and Moe, comedians who were heard over the Columbia chain last year, will return to the air at 8 p. m. on the Henry and George program.

The Prince of Wales and Prime Minister James Ramsay MacDonald are scheduled to speak over the ether waves in the United States next Thursday and Saturday, respectively.

TOMORROW—

A royal command performance before King George and Queen Mary, will be broadcast for the first time in America by the National Broadcast Company Wednesday at 2:15 p. m.

• • •

Another trans-Atlantic broadcast will be staged Wednesday at 4:20 p. m. when Neville Chamberlain speaks on behalf of the British Conservative Party in London.

SHOWER GIVEN COUPLE

ASHLEY, May 19—A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Kohler Saturday night honoring their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Bowman whose marriage on June 25, 1930 has just been announced. There were about 60 present.

FEET HURT IN FALL

ASHLEY, May 19—Henry Stewart, who fell from the roof of the William Martin home while repairing the damage done by a recent fire, was taken to Delaware for an x-ray of his feet which were crushed in the fall.

Make Repairs at Marion Postoffice

The annual rennovation of the postoffice is in full swing in preparation for the summer months. For the first time since the building was erected a new floor has been laid in the main part of the work room. Other improvements include the scrubbing of the walls throughout the building and the recovering of the desks in the parcel post department. An electric drinking fountain also is being installed in the workroom. Outside improvements include the painting of the flagpole and waterproofing the new part of the building.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday May 20

A LIVELY and generally propitious state of affairs may be looked for on this day, according to the lunar transits. Business, employment, all pertaining to writings, publishing and promotion, as well as new projects, are under a fortunate planetary rulership. Domestic, social, artistic and romantic associations should also flourish. In finances there may be a sordid note.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of fair prospects and advancement, with all interests promising favors and progress but a peculiar (though not powerfulu) angle may relate to money transactions. Purely personal relations should also thrive and bring decided advantages and pleasure. A child born on this day should be well qualified for success and happiness in life, with excellent social graces, artistic skill and business acumen. It should prosper in employment and in peculiar undertakings

NURSES MEET

District No. 7 of State Association Holds Session Here.

Thirty-two nurses from Wyandot, Hardin and Marion counties attended a meeting of District No. 7 of the Ohio State Nurses association last night at City hospital. Mrs. Elizabeth August of Columbus, secretary of the state association, talked to the nurses on the organization, its standards and its constitution.

The group voted to retain the present temporary officers until Jan. 1. Miss Mary B. Pleasant, superintendent of City hospital will continue in her capacity as president of the district until that time.

A picnic meeting will be held June 9 in Marion

Cut Back Corners of Two More Streets

Employes of the city service department today were cutting back the two corners at the intersections of Carner avenue and Marion avenue on Prospect street. Because of the angling of the two streets, the south corners were regarded as hazardous.

Both corners will now have a 15 foot radius, the director said.

KONJOLA GIVES GREAT RELIEF!

Read The Happy Experiences Of Those Who Have Tried This Medicine and Tonic

Mr. James Coan

Read the experience of Mr. James Coan, 320 South Third Street, Grand Forks, N. Dakota, who says: "I suffered with stomach trouble for twenty years. I bloated after meals and had headaches and dizzy spells. I finally tried Konjola and this medicine gave me complete relief. I am gaining energy and am free from pain of any kind. I will always be glad I gave Konjola a fair trial."

Mrs. Fred Walter

No less impressive is the statement of Mrs. Fred Walter, 616 West Sixth Street, Waterloo, Iowa, who says: "I was nervous and run down and lacked energy and vitality. Constipation added to my misery. Friends prevailed upon me to try Konjola and just three bottles made a new woman of me. My appetite is good, I am free from constipation and my work is a pleasure."

Konjola is sold here by the Henney & Cooper Drug Store.

Chic Star Patterns

Practical and Simple

Flared Sleeves Are Chic.

Pattern 1922

Extremely smart and becoming, yet quite easy and simple to make, this delightful frock developed in a sheer print. The graceful cape sleeves are cut in one with the bodice, a detail the inexperienced sewer will welcome. The skirt flare joins the bodice in a slightly curved line, well below the snug hips. Bands of the fabric are used to finish the neck and form the belt leaving graceful ends to tie in soft knots or bows. Pattern 1922 makes up beautifully in georgette, chiffon, embroidered batiste, voile or dimity.

Obtainable only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40. Size 14 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch fabric.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED.

COUPON

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents. Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to the pattern department THE MARION STAR BUREAU, Pattern Fashion Syndicate, Inc., 243 West 17th St., New York City.

Daily Proverb—"To err is human, to persevere in error is the act of a fool."

And talking about news stories of impelling importance, we noted in yesterday's papers that Ethel Barrymore's son may decide to enter the movies.

Roger W. Babson remarks that "for a man to get discouraged today is like committing suicide after having passed the crisis." If Roger keeps on, it will not be long until he is a Simon pure, A No. 1, blown-in-the-bottle optimist.

Quoting the line, "Conscience doth make cowards of us all," Henry Morganthau says: "But not mine; mine made me a politician." Take it from us; Henry is either drawing the long bow, or he isn't any great shakes as a politician.

The Earl of Derby has advised British innkeepers to follow strictly British menus to please American tourists, holding that American travelers want to see Britain as it is and to get the food that Britons eat. We will admit that eating British food, particularly British food as prepared outside London, is an experience, but we are not so everlastingly sure that Americans enjoy it.

The Earl of Moray is to sell Kinfauns castle and his 2,500-acre estate in Perthshire in order that he may meet the death duties levied on the property left him by his father to whose title he succeeded recently. It has become so over in England that it's a matter of some difficulty to decide whether an inherited estate is an asset or a liability.

From London comes the announcement that Sir Thomas Lipton will issue a sixth challenge for the America's cup, the contest to take place within a year. Sir Thomas probably figures that the advertising resulting from such ventures is worth all it costs him.

The Illinois Homeopathic Medical association has drafted a resolution, to be submitted to the legislative committee of the state general assembly, recommending that a painless death sleep be administered to imbeciles and all sufferers from incurable diseases. You can't hold the members of that association mercenary!

From Florida comes a story to the effect that the shell and some of the bones and teeth of a giant armadillo have been discovered down there. In the light of all the rum-running stories coming from Florida, it wouldn't have been so surprising had one of these monsters of the past been reported to have been seen roaming about in that state, but to be told that the for-sure remains of one had actually been found is decidedly surprising.

Three octogenarians appeared before a Chicago court, two to support the claims of the third member of the trio, who is seeking to divorce the wife he married forty-four years ago on the ground that she has shamefully mistreated him. It is evident that the eighty-two-year-old husband isn't any fast thinker.

From Moscow comes the announcement that the soviet Russian government has initiated a campaign to draft more women to augment the force of 10,000,000 women already working upon collective farms and thus release more men for factory work, the idea being to speed up the five-year plan, which shows a tendency to lag. Coming from a land which is so prone to prate of "liberty," drafting women for farm work is bound to strike the reader as a bit peculiar.

The World Court.

The United States is still open to arguments pro and con on the World court. The issue of American adherence to the court, though quiescent at the moment, will come up again in the next congress.

The value of the court is displayed in the first important development of the current League of Nations session at Geneva. Germany and Austria, France, Great Britain and Italy have agreed to submit the potentially dangerous issue of the proposed Austro-German customs accord to the court for an advisory opinion. The legality of the accord under the treaty of St. Germain and the Geneva protocol of 1922 is questioned. The World court is the only existing agency that is qualified to give an impartial decision.

It is exactly this that the court is designed to do—settle controversial issues by fair reasoning, thereby minimizing the constant threat of dispute that may lead to warfare. It is exactly the same function that a common pleas court performs in a community. If society were to attempt to operate without benefit of a judicial system there would be constant fighting.

The World court provides the opportunity to bring out all pertinent arguments on any issue, and prevents hasty conclusions. It is the first attempt to create a world orderliness on the same plan that nations, states and local communities have followed to create orderliness.

Prepared.

When men first sailed out of sight of shore in ships the menace of fire became proportionately greater. Similarly, when men learned how to sail out of sight of the ground in airplanes they submitted themselves to greater dangers than ever before by fire. On water or in the air, there is a greatly diminished hope of rescue. Man's utmost ingenuity is required to overcome the added hazard.

Last week a transport plane carrying twenty passengers caught fire high over Fort Holye, Maryland. The passengers were greatly alarmed, but were reassured by the plane hostess, who said the crew was "prepared for all this," and that the pilot knew just what to do. Soldiers on the ground below, saw the huge plane wing slip, forcing the flames away from the passenger's quarters. A few seconds later the plane landed, and the fire was extinguished.

The same day an aviator flying over Pittsburgh saved himself and three girl passengers from death or injury by keeping his head and landing his plane safely despite the collapse of one wheel during the take-off. The story of the incident read: "Unperturbed by the danger they faced, the girls, after the safe landing, laughingly boarded another plan and continued their flight."

Man is learning rapidly to handle his new mode of transportation safely—as he has learned to handle ships and automobiles previously. When every air passenger can feel certain that whatever emergency may happen, the crew of the plane is "prepared" to meet it, air travel will have won the public's confidence.

By last week's addition of 5,620 acres to its area, Bryce Canon National park now covers 35,000 acres, which means complete protection to another of nature's wonder spots, provided, of course, that none of our "Progressive" senators have established "summer places" within its boundaries.

What Makes Success?

University of Chicago scientists are trying to find out what it is that makes the difference between failure and success. Between 300 and 400 individuals have been examined, and still the scientists are in the dark.

They will stay there. In time, perhaps, they will grow accustomed to it and see certain things, which no one else will be able to see, and imagine they have made a discovery. But the world won't care, and certainly won't be able to benefit from their activities. A caged squirrel spinning its wheel could do as much good.

The "things" that make men successful can't be catalogued. Human traits can be, perhaps, but uselessly, because every one knows what they are anyway. One must have driving ambition, average or more than average intelligence, confidence, mastery of his faculties, foresight, honesty—and a dozen other basic qualities.

But he also must have the opportunity, and the "breaks" that give him the chance to make the most of it. The best horse does not always win, though his chances are more favorable, other things being equal. And what is success anyway? If it be only the attainment of a proposed object or position, the hobo is a successful individual. If it be possession of wealth, the sons of wealthy men are successful.

Curiosity has prodded civilization along many a weary mile, but when intelligent men start to discover what makes men successful they are wasting their time. Their own success could be approached more quickly by some other route.

The 350 students of the Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, high school went out on a strike this week in protest against the failure of the school authorities to renew the contract of the athletic coach. Why will boards of education thus seek to throw obstacles in the way of education?

Sympathy for Sally.

The Kentucky Derby is all right, but out in Calaveras county, California, frogs make men go daft once a year.

Budweiser, a fine mottled frog who won this year's event with a leap of eleven feet, five inches, is the new champion. In Calaveras county, he is fully as important as the Whitney colt, Twenty Grand, who led the Derby field home Saturday. It's all a matter of opinion and tradition.

One contestant in the Calaveras county leapstake, it is reported, misunderstood the rules and jumped backward. Let's call her Sally. Sally deserves a kind word.

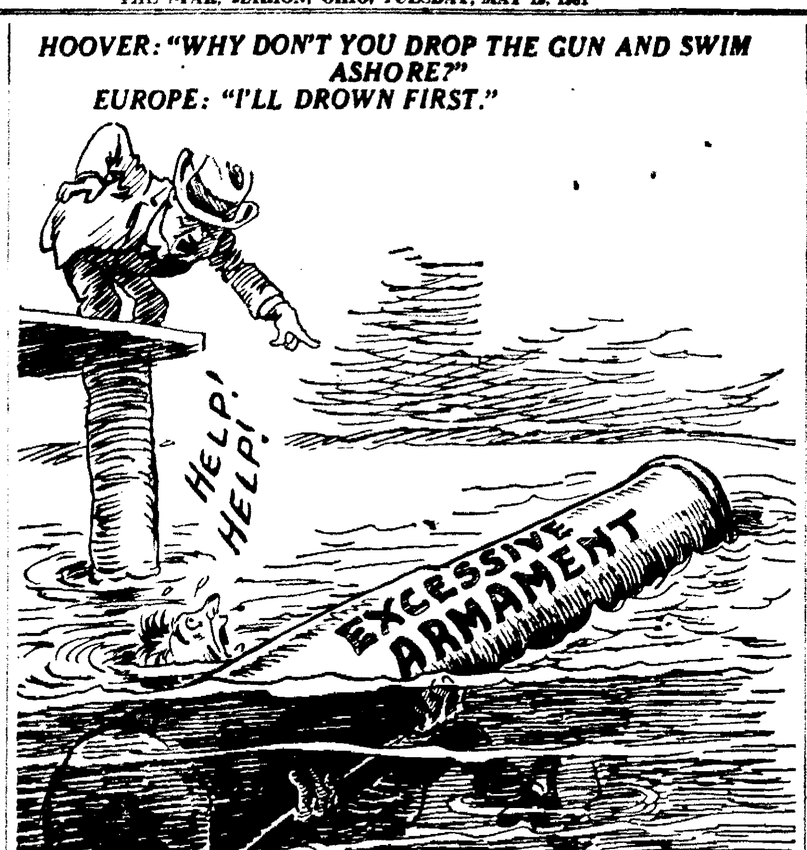
When Mark Twain established the Calaveras county frog jumping contest by writing his famous story he could not have foreseen that some day the contest would be an affair of national importance, and that an artless frog named Sally would come into unfavorable attention by jumping contrary to form. Mark Twain never would have intruded on frog privacy to that extent.

Sally is an unknowing and unpremeditated heroine. She it is who, in the midst of an event that originally was ridiculous and still is, strikes a lone note of sanity and restores the proper relation between her kingdom of lower degree and the vaunted kingdom of man. The 6,000-odd residents of Calaveras county can go daft over frogs if they feel that way, but Sally can jump backward and spoil their fun.

In its official tests, this week, the French destroyer, Gerfaut, established a new record for warships by attaining a speed of 42.7 knots. The world idea of disarmament seems to be so to add to the effectiveness of the unit as to more than compensate in the reduction of naval units—if there is any reduction

It cost a Los Angeles woman $150 to move her home, which cost $100,000 twenty years ago, five miles to what she considered a more desirable site. It's dollars to cents that she is not a member of the younger generation, or of that last graduated from it

"A nation which makes as bad a mess of its other affairs as the English do of their coffee," Dr. L. P. Jacks remarks, "can not be far from the bottomless pit." You're off on the wrong foot, doctor. No nation which makes as bad a mess of its other affairs as the English do of their coffee could exist.



Editorial Opinion.

A DOUBTFUL EXPEDIENT.

Perhaps it is in the nature of legislatures, where, because of badly-disproportioned representation, most laws are the fruits of trading rather than of decision on their merits, to seek the easiest way out. Some of the tax measures now before the Ohio general assembly are simply markers along the line of least resistance. Specifically the proposed tax on tobacco products is of this class.

The one doubtful virtue of nuisance sales taxes on luxuries, amusements and the like is that the cost of collection is low and that the ultimate consumer, invariably stung by the impost, can not help himself. Because he has developed certain needs and habits the state would extract money from his pockets in small dribbles, although at the end of a year the total would be considerable. The tobacco tax as proposed for Ohio would have all the evils of indiscriminate class taxation, would work exceptional hardship on people with small incomes and is merely another way of evading the fundamental principle of taxation according to ability to pay.

Moreover, if any inference is to be drawn from the experience of other states that have tried a tobacco tax it is that revenue is always greatly less than estimated. Georgia expected $6,000,000 from this source; it got only $1,000,000. Arkansas, Utah, Tennessee and Louisiana received less than half of the revenue estimated when the tobacco tax was imposed. Several states tried taxing tobacco for a year or two and gave it up as unsatisfactory.

Such a nuisance tax generally results also in evasion and bootlegging of the taxed product. It superimposes a state tax over a federal tax. It often is retained at the behest of the taxspenders long after the emergency which it was meant to fill has passed, and it is likely to be spread in all directions to other similar products.

If the general essembly faces the tax problem squarely it can find adequate revenue without taxing the habits of a part of the people.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A HANDICAP OF MASS EDUCATION.

There's a local political row on in New York City over the way the children of the town are educated. The question is whether they are being properly taught to "read, spell and do arithmetic." The president of the board of education takes the positive side of the debate and says the criticisms, made originally by the Republican club, are "irresponsible." And Alan Fox, chairman of the city affairs committee of the club, comes back with a report from the state department of education. This report is supposed to show that out of 8,000 graduates of the elementary schools of New York City, only thirty per cent. were able to pass tests in arithmetic given by the department, only twenty-four per cent. could pass the English test and only twenty-one per cent. the geography test.

This sounds pretty bad, and since Tammany is supposed to be to blame for everything that happens in the nation's metropolis, presumably Tammany has been playing a low-down game on confiding boys and girls, who have supposed that they were at least getting an education in return for the pains and penalties attached to attendance upon school.

More seriously, it is rather a pity that the statement by the New York state department of education has been produced in a political or semi-political setting, because if it is taken at its face value it is a highly significant showing, and suggestive of a bad defect in the system of mass education, necessarily in vogue in the big cities of the country.

Inevitably individual advancement must suffer somewhat where schooling is placed on a basis of mass production. Schoolmasters know this, and in all big centers competent and conscientious teachers are constantly on the lookout to minimize the evil. How real the evil and danger are, and how constantly they must be fought if education is not to become a good deal of a travesty in many cases, the New York report indicates with some sharpness.—Detroit Free Press.

"Rheumatism."

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

We hear little these days about "old-fashioned rheumatism." The disease has not disappeared, however, but the name has changed.

"Rheumatism" was a term that covered a multitude of ailments. Regardless of what the ailment might really be, if there was any pain in a joint it was spoken of as rheumatism.

There were as many patent medicines sold for this ailment as there are planets in the solar system. Grandmother had her own pet liniment, "a sure cure for rheumatism." In her goodness of heart she was always anxious for every sufferer to try it.

It is the effort of modern medicine to be accurate. Accuracy is important, not only in the treatment of disease, but in the description of diseases. Diseases can be adequately dealt with only when properly understood.

The term "rheumatism" has been placed in the background because more accurate descriptive terms have bren found. Though the effects of the complaint and particularly the pain are identical, it is now customary to speak of joint pain as "arthritis."

Likewise, we have special types of arthritis, as "atrophic," or "hypertrophic arthritis" and "rheumtoid arthritis." True rheumatism with involvement of the joints, is spoken of as "rheumatic fever," although it may be associated with true arthritis.

All this may seem unnecessary and unimportant. However, it is quite important for the physician to know whether he is dealing with atrophic or hypertrophic arthritis and as to whether or not there is true rheumatic involvement.

Recourse to the X-ray, examination of the blood and urine, in addition to a study of the symptoms of the sufferer, are needed to determine accurately the nature of the disease. This accuracy is of vital importance for the future welfare of the patient.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

E.M.K. Q—Is it healthful to drink water before breakfast every morning? Will this relieve or help an acid stomach?

A—Yes, the acidity should be overcome by proper diet and regular elimination. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

A READER. Q—Would infected or diseased tonsils be apt to affect the bladder?

A—Not necessarily, although the infection from this source would naturally affect the entire system, to a greater or lesser extent. Have the tonsils removed if they are diseased.

V.T. Q—What will develop the legs?

A—Exercise should be helpful toward this end. Jumping, skating, brisk walking, running, as well as dancing, are of value under the circumstances.

A READER. Q—What would cause the eyes to be bloodshot after attending the movies? What treatment would be helpful under the 2—What will remove callouses on the hands? circumstances?

A—Probably due to eye strain. You may not sit in the location which is best for your particular vision. Why not have the eyes examined so that definite advice may be outlined?

2—Try soaking the hands in hot, soapy water and then applying olive oil or cold cream and scrape away the dead tissue. The use of pumice stone, after washing the hands, should be helpful, but avoid going too deep into the flesh.

• • •

MRS. R.H. Q—Will it prove injurious to take a teaspoonful of epsom salts every morning before breakfast?

2—Will quantities of salt and pepper on the food tend to dry up the blood?

A—It is not wise to take anything in the nature of a medicine or drug unless it has been prescribed for you. Salts are apt to prove weakening and debilitating. Watch your diet and take plenty of exercise and you will not have to resort to such measures in order to keep the system clear. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

2—Not necessarily, but it is not wise to use either salt or pepper in undue amount.

D.W.H. Q—What causes thickened toe and finger nails and what treatment is advised?

A—Probably due to some circulatory disturbance. Try soaking the nails in hot soapy water and then apply a good cold cream or oil to soften them. Be sure that your circulation is good. For full articulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Tapping Solar Energy.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

From time to time the world is warned by prominent scientists that the known available supply of coal is nearing exhaustion. There is some reason for genuine alarm in the thought that a few centuries will see the complete exhaustion of coal. The three prime instrumentalities for maintaining life, to say nothing of comfort, prosperity and civilization itself, are food, fuel and shelter.

This terrestrial ball continues to spin relentlessly upon its axis and to revolve in its predestined orbit around the sun, regardless of the present plight of the human race in regard to fuel. But for several decades, many scientists have made studies of all available sources of energy for the economical production of heat, as a possible substitute for coal. It is well known, of course, that coal is a source of energy deriving its hidden thermal properties from the sun. But it is equally well known that it is not a satisfactory or efficient vehicle for the sun's energy, although it is the best and most available that we have at present. It has been estimated that the power in an incandescent lamp, for example, is only a small fraction of one per cent. of the total sunlight stored in part in the coal, the burning of which at the generating station produces the electric current.

The production of power on a vast scale is a characteristic feature of the present day, which is often referred to as the power age. Black and white coal, embedded deposits on flowing streams of energy, now constitute the motive power for our large industries. The chain of investigations, extending over almost half a century, has finally brought the solution of the problem almost within the power of economical realization. It may be that within the lifetime of the present generation a revolution in the power industries similar to those which followed the invention by James Watt of the steam engine, will be brought about. The vast, but now calculable energy of heat in the sun, which reaches us in the form of solar radiation, may serve man as a mighty reservoir of heat and energy for all future time.

As far back as 1885, the famous scientist and engineer, Werner Siemens, made the first selenium light-sensitive cell. Various sulphides—silver, lead, molybdenum, for example—have been tried and also used, but with very low efficiency. The copper oxide cell, a sort of sandwich of copper oxide between two layers of copper, was discovered three years ago, and proved its superiority over all other forms of converter hitheto known. Bruno Lange invented the German form of the cell, Grondahl and Geiger being the inventors of the alternative American type. Lange's invention was anticipated by Grondahl, who devised a cell for use as a rectifier, for converting alternating current into direct current—an invention which has registered genuine commercial success. That a more efficient cell will eventually solve the great problem of utilizing solar heat is confidently believed by scientists. A copper oxide cell three inches square has driven an electric motor by dull sunlight for some months now in the Siemens laboratory in Berlin.

The new silver selenide cell is the discovery and also the invention of Dr. Bruno Lange of the Kaiser Wilhelm institute in Berlin. The cell converts light into electricity. A thin sheet of metal is doubly coated, first with a thin layer of silver selenide and then in turn coated with a very much thinner layer of a second metal. Light passes through this outer, transparent layer, setting up a current between the two layers of the cell.

It has been found that the new cell is from 50 to 150 times as efficient as the copper oxide cell. Dr. Lange's device brings the problem of converting sunlight into electric current for large power industries almost to the point of satisfactry solution.—Copyright, 1931, International Features Syndicate, Inc.

Ohio Remained Free.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

So far as the soil of what now constitutes Ohio is concerned, it is fairly clear that the inhibition of the ordinance of 1787 against slave-holding was always strictly observed. No one was ever permitted to hold slaves here with impunity. In other portions of the Northwest territory, of which it was a part, and over which the anti-slavery provision equally extended, it is certain that some slaves were held under treaty agreement, which was regarded as above the constitution.

The early French settlers throughout the West and North held slaves. When France in 1763 ceded this territory to England, it was made a part of the treaty that these French people were to be guaranteed the right to retain their property, including, specifically, their slaves. These French settlers now became British subjects, and when the Jay treaty between the United States and Great Britain was drawn there was a provision that these former British citizens in the territory thus passing to the United States should not be molested in their possession of slaves.

This plainly operated as an exception to the slavery prohibition of the old ordinance. When the French settlers living in Vincennes, Kaskaskia and Detroit heard of the adoption of the ordinance of 1787, they sent a delegation protesting against the interference of the ordinance with their property in slaves and they were assured by Governor St. Clair that the prohibition did not apply to the slaves they were holding at the time.

Indiana sought to have the ban against slavery lifted as to that state when it was organized, and General Harrison, who was governor of the territory, approved the request, but it fialed. Illinois fared more successfully, and in its first constitution there was permission to retain the slaves then held in possession, and, strange to say, congress approved the constitution with the provision in it.

A Washington Daybook.

BY HERBERT PLUMMER.

Washington, May 19—There's nothing in the appearance of Utah's Democratic senator—the tall and scholarly William H. King—that suggests he would interest himself in a subject so highly technical as radio.

He looks like what he really is—the juris[t] who has spent years on the supreme court bench of his state. His dignity impresses one immediately. On the floor of the senate, in the committee room or in his office always he seems the same.

His manner is deliberate. When he speaks in the senate on such subjects as the tariff, marines in Latin-American countries—the latter his favorite topic—one can almost visualize the black robe of the justice draped over his shoulders.

He chooses his words with care. He presents his case in a straight-forward and methodulous fashion.

Radio and its problems have long interested him, but until a short while ago he never bothered to make a serious study of this subject. His friend, Senator Dill, of Washington, is one of the senate's recognized authorities on radio and heretofore King has been content to let him lead the way.

But with the advent of television his curiosity became aroused. He decided to do a little personal investigating of the whole subject. Now he has some very definite ideas and plans to work for their adoption.

He has become convinced that the existing radio law must be thoroughly studied and brought up to date by congress at its next session. But it's the television angle which particularly interests him.

"Television is so new and so important," said the senator, "that it staggers the imagination. Few are aware of its potentialities. For this reason we must become acquainted with it."

The question of censorship of television is being considered by him.

But as to that phase he admits that he must do more investigating.

"It is a matter to be considered from many angles. It's certainly something to think about."

With Senator King entering the radio field the senate will be well fortified with expert opinions when the subject comes up for discussion.

Senator Dill is a student of radio and has made it his legislative hobby for a number of years. He is co-author of the present law. And Wallace H. White, Jr., of Maine, the house's radio expert and co-author with Dill of the Dill-White radio legislation, moves over to the senate for a six-year term next December.

NON-SUPPORT CHARGE

Carlos R. Waddell, 38, of 677 Mound street, was arrested yesterday and is being held at police headquarters on a non-support charge filed in municipal court by Mrs. Mary E. Williams. The affidavit charged that Waddell had failed to contribute toward the support of his minor child since Jan. 31.

CHARGE DISMISSED

Actions in probate court charging Paul Miller and William Gulliford of north of Marion with trespassing were dismissed yesterday by Probate Judge Oscar Gast after an amicable agreement of parties had been reached. The charges were originally brought by Harris B. Weinstein, who charged the two men with trespassing on garden plot.

Le Mercure Club Holds Picnic at Last Meeting of Season

THE last meeting of LeMercure club this season was a picnic dinner last evening at the home of Mrs. Bird Jacoby of 370 east Church street with Miss Ireanea Kraus as assisting hostess.

The president's gavel was passed from Mrs. Alfred Donithen to Mrs. Walter E. Kane, incoming president. Mrs. Frank Wiedemann, program chairman, announced the 1931-32 season calendar. The club will study modern drama and the novel.

Mrs. E. Paul Bachman reviewed Ferris' "Death Takes a Holiday" and Mrs. Floy Wideman read a paper, "Style and Care of Oak Floors."

The picnic dinner was served cafeteria style from a table centered with a large bowl of calendulas. The social committee of which Miss Marian Conley is chairman, assisted the hostesses.

Miss Summers Gives Farewell Party

Miss Melvina Summers, whose marriage to Dr. Clyde E. Keeler of Boston, Mass., will be solemnized July 8, gave a farewell party for her piano students yesterday afternoon at her studio on south Main street. She will close her studio May 26. Her pupils in the Mozart musical Musketeers, Music Progressive and Studentiae Musicae clubs were present.

The studio was decorated in her bridal colors, lavender, pink and green, with baskets of lilacs and tulips throughout the rooms. Miss Mildred Duffey, student teacher, assisted as hostess. As a part of a program, each pupil told something about music, some composer or some musical current event. Miss Summers and Miss Duffey played a piano duo, "Polish Dance," by Sharwenka. Miss Duffey was in charge of the younger pupils and Miss Summers was in charge of the older students in a recreation hour of games and contests in which Peggy Knapp and Joe Todd won first awards. Bobby Mullett won second award in one of the contests.

Miss Summers was pleasantly surprised by the presentation of a wedding gifts from her pupils. Refreshments were served in Miss Summers' wedding colors, with favors for each child.

Preparations for the closing recital of Miss Summers' pupils were completed for Tuesday, May 25, at 8 p. m. at Trinity Baptist church. A rehearsal will be held Saturday afternoon at the church.

European Literature is Subject of Talk Before Jewish Women

CONDITIONS of present day Europe from a literary standpoint were discussed by Joseph Remenyi of the faculty of Western Reserve university before the Marion Chapter of the Council of Jewish Women, their husbands and a group of patrons last evening at Hotel Harding, following a dinner given by the chapter in celebration of its thirty-fifth anniversary.

For a better understanding of his subject, Professor Remenyi chose five stories showing certain perspectives of European life, the first by a German author showing the pathos, the second, by a French author showing the spiritual defeat, the third by a Hungarian countryman showing the dissolution of the family and the last two by Russian authors, showing the present social and individual conditions.

In speaking of the Hungarian story of a young peasant girl who became a maid in a Budapest family of means, and goaded by their restraint upon her by every personal liberty, killed them, he said: "Communism has its only chance where the ruling class is ethically intelligent."

Of his Russian stories he said: "They are an insight into the characteristic features of post-war Russia. Every story by a Soviet writer is a propaganist story." The Five-Year plan now the ruling force in Russian government, is, in Professor Remenyi's opinion an optical illusion.

"From a literary point of view," he said, "present day writings of Europeans are only transistory shrieking, screaming voices of a transistory civilization."

Professor Remenyi's talk expressed the belief that in the present destructive condition of Europe, its only hope is in its youth between the ages of 20 and 30 that has not taken up the communistic propaganda. "Lenin is the terror of Europe today and—maybe the terror of America," he declared.

Professor Remenyi, born in Hungary, has written many books which have been printed in Europe and is thoroughly acquainted with his subject matter.

Preceding his lecture, Newman Browarsky, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John F. Lacey, gave a group of delightful violin numbers and Mrs. H. K. Mouser played several brilliant piano numbers, including one of her own compositions. At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz sang a charming group of songs, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Mouser.

The ballroom was decorated with baskets of tulips and lilacs and iris.

FLORENCE REED. A recent photograph of this glamorous star whose latest success was The Shanghai Gesture. She is now in Hollywood to make pictures.
"I'm over 40!" SAYS FLORENCE REED
Famous stage Star tells how you, too, may keep youthful charm
"WITH a woman it's how old she looks, not how old she is that counts!" says Florence Reed, famous stage star.
"Stage and screen stars know how to stay young—how to keep youthful freshness year after year. And practically every prominent star shares one secret. Youthful charm depends on complexion beauty! We consider our complexions priceless. For years I have used Lux Toilet Soap regularly to keep my skin youthful."
Florence Reed is only one of countless beautiful favorites of the stage and screen who depend on Lux Toilet Soap to keep their complexions always exquisitely smooth.
In Hollywood actually 605 of the most important screen actresses use this pure, fragrant white soap.
Surely your skin should be kept youthfully aglow—and can be—this gentle way! Order several cakes—today.

CHAPTER 26

Julian's Triumph

JULIAN LAKE returned next day ... previously as he had left ... but he was jubilant with ... them about the gallery ... talented. ... too modest at first," he ... but I am advised to sell ... for five thousand ... 40 canvases. Now pic... yourselves what I shall ...

... picture to herself. She ... "Devon Lanes" with ... colors and its weak ... Poor Julian He ... lieved that someone would buy his atrocious daubs.

But when he told them just what he was going to do for them, Nora caught her breath almost like a sob He was going to have a trust fund for Aunt Em. As for Nora and himself... he stopped and cried.

"Nora doesn't believe in me. But wait. Wait!" He smiled at her.

It was just one more fantastic scheme that would end as the others had. Nora knew, in failuure. And Aunt Em and Hallie were beginning to believe in him. Perhaps it was because they had never seen his pictures, Nora thought ironically.

Jon, too was as enthusiastic as her father. He told her that as soon as the show was launched they would be married.

"Nothing's going to stop us Nora."

"Not if it's a horrible failure?"

"It couldn't be, darling," he assured her.

At the end of the week Jon drove her father to New York.

"Don't come to the old show, Nora. It will only bore you," her father said.

But Nora was depressed by the thought of the failure that awaited her father. No one but a fool or a genius could have believed so utterly in himself. And Julian, she admitted, was not a genius.

They had a letter from Fran to say that she felt better already She would be home in a few months. It seemed to Nora, these days in September, that she was surrounded by people who never touched reality

On Sunday they saw in the paper a notice of her father's exhibition by a well-known art critic.

"The paintings of Julian Lake, on display this week at the Weiland Galleries, show a peculiarly rich individuality. They have a rude vigor and commanding draftsmanship. The luminous character of his color arrests and haunts the mind.

"His peasant studies have the animation of truth. This is an outstanding group of paintings, not only in its variety and its number, but in that he has reached out to new horizons.

"America may well be proud when she adds this talent, I would almost say genius, to a long line of splendid artists"

If they needed further proof, came an enthusiastic telegram from Jon saying that her father's pictures were being sought by art dealers.

But it was of Jon that Nora thought with rapture. Nothing could ever seperate her and Jon now. She could not wait to see him. Why should she not go straight down to New York in the morning? What did it matter that she should be in the office? Things like this happened only once in a life-time.

It was in the same excitement that she dressed early next day in the beige dress that was Jon's favorite, drew on the small beige hat. She had never, she knew, looked so lovely. Her eyes shone with happiness, for her heart sang over and over that at last they were all secure. Julian had saved him Now she and Jon could be married.

The dream was with her all the way to New York. At the Grand Central she took a taxi and gave the address of the Weiland Galleries with a thrill of excitement.

They did not know she was coming.

She watched the crowds swim past. As she stepped into the gallery she caught her breath. It was still early afternoon but she saw small groups of people standing about heard the buzz of talk. In the far corner of the gallery she saw Julian looking amazingly handsome as he made a graceful gesture. He did not see her. She was happy that she should have these first few minutes alone.

She stood looking about at the pictures, that seemed to glow with light and color under a blaze of sunshine She turned at last to look intently at one.

Alpine meadow She could hear cow bells chiming down the flowery slopes, and smell the wild, sweet tang of summer But this—this was not the way her father painted She moved to the next picture, "Devon Lanes" The twisting lane with a flock of sheep winding past, the light on the shepherd's upturned face. She could hear the thud of sheep's feet, taste the dust as it rose in a cloud behind them. She remembered her father's murky colors and faltering brush strokes. She heard voices pattering art talk with a note of enthusiasm uppermost. The light, the wild color, the enchanted country spread before her eyes, as she walked from picture to picture.

In the center of the room was a wooden bench. She went to it and sank down at last. She felt she could not face those pictures again. Her father had never painted like that. But what did they make her think of. these pictures that seemed to lay bare the innermost search of the heart?

This trembling sunlight, painted with a brilliance that overhaid a masterly technique. These translucent colors. These brown-necked, stooping peasants with the patience of animals. . . . She tried to put them from her mind.

Her hands were wet. She wiped them with a ball of handkerchief.

Someone behind her was saying: "The artist's little joke. See it over there."

She turned her head spasmodically to see what it was they were laughing at There in the corner was one of the things she remembered well, the purple house that seemed to topple down the brown hill into the red water below.

"Amazing that he should catch the modern spirit and caricature it so precisely."

The voices moved off. She closed her eyes. Someone had come to sit beside her. she felt a hand over hers. It was Jon

"You couldn't stay away! Well, what do you think of it?" he leaned forward, his green eyes smiling, his face lighted with a charming gayety. "How queer you look, Nora. What's the matter?"

"Nothing. Nothing. What could be the matter?" she tried to say between white lips.

"Didn't I tell you—there you must go and speak to him as soon as that old dowager is through gushing over him—"

"Jon," she plucked at his sleeve, "take me away'"

"It's been too much for you, has it? This is the time when I thought you'd be wild with delight and you look as though—"

She tried to wring a smile from her lips but she knew it was only a grotesque twitch.

"Let's go, Jon. It's so hot here, isn't it?"

"But your hands are ice-cold. There, he's free now!"

"No, Jon, no." She shrank back. "I don't want to see him now."

At last they were on the train Jon began to tell her all that had happened in these last few days. She listened without seeming to hear, closing her eyes now and then as though the lids were too heavy.

"You're tired, Nora. I'll go and smoke a while. You're coming home with me Damon will be there We'll tell her, tonight. Then we can be married. At once. At once!"

"Oh, yes, Jon, at once! And you'll take me away?"

She was a strange, made creature, he thought. Only last week she had stood out against him, saying over and over again she could not leave her aunt. And now she begged him to take her away. Well, that was Nora. All strange contradictions and sudden impulses, variable as the wind.

Nora sat alone at last. Her head fell back against the chair. She could hear the train sliding over the tracks, feel the ceaseless vibration.

But this could not make her forget those pictures. She knew something about them—something that she dared not face. If she should bring it to the light—if she should drag up from the depths of her mind this truth, she could never meet Julian face to face again.

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

SUMMER seems to be here all right, but vacation is what we are waiting for. It must have been a man or an ant that invented going to school, but it must have been a little boy that came along right behind him and invented vacations If the man had invented vacations the little boy would have let it go at that, and then we wouldn't have been bothered with school. I have got to have an education so that I can learn how to make money and to hang onto it after I have made it I would ruther go to school half as much and only learn how to make money. I would hang onto it by hanging something on the chin of anyone that tried to take it away from me

I didnt have to raise the window this morning to let Jubilee down by the rope in his teeth, because it was warm enough to leave it open all night. When I was letting him down by his rope I saw the lace curtain blowing out of my ant's window and I got an idee and played a dirty trick on my best friend I swang him back and forth like a pendoolum a couple of times till I got him going good and then I swang him right through my ant's window and jerked the rope loose and left him there, and before I could get away from the window I heard a screech and Jubilee jumped out of her window all wrapepd up in her lace curtain. When I went down to get my milk pail and go out and massage a few quarts out of the cows he looked at me like he was ashamed of me. I was kinda ashamed of myself. A fella ought to stop and think whenever he gets a sudden idee to do something mean. I told the bunch about it whilst I was milking and they all laughed like it was a brite idee.

When I went in and sot down to feed my face and my ant came out and sot down to eat the breakfast my mother had fixed she said that Jubilee had jumped right through her bedroom window whilst she was asleep and had jumped into bed with her, and if somebody didn't do something with that dog she was going to poison him. My grandfather asted her if the dog acted like he was mad, and she said he did before she got with him. My grandfather didn't think he was mad, he must have been sick, and my dog was over to know who done it. He looked like an elephant with a chew of tobacco fought and who cow she will have to milk it. I took my cows to the pasture and the bunch went along, but Pudds didn't ride Nance cow.

A Hurried Inspection Fails to Show Any Sign of the Chinese

WHAT I expected to see in the grass below Mrs. Tiger's sitting room window I do not know I had thrown the heavy pot at the face pressed against the other side of the window without an instant's premeditation acting upon the intuitive conviction that I must avert the unwinking stare of the Chinese who had beckoned me to bring the rice paper letter to him. The sound of the shattered glass had told me that I had aimed correctly and the deduction that the marauder must be wounded was a simple one But whether the blow had been sufficient to make him unconscious or to I stopped short with a shudder at that point and forced myself to look down

Are Unseen Eyes Watching?

At least I told myself with a great sigh of relief he had been able to get himself away, for there was no one either standing or lying under the window nor my eyes swept the surrounding fields hastily could I see anyone moving anywhere That decided I grew bolder, and taking out the movable screen I knelt down and leaned over the sill scrutinizing carefully the grass below

To the casual eye it was not even trampled and I recalled what I had heard Hugh Grantland say once, that the Chinese were equal to the Indians in their ability to remove all trace of their footsteps But how a wounded, bleeding man could have traveled the few feet to the Tiger cornfield, a luxuriant tall growth which could afford a hiding place to a hundred fugitives without leaving any trace, I did not see But the grass, at least from the window above showed no sign of footprints

There came over me again the inexplicable feeling of being watched which I had felt when I had started upon my walk to the Tiger farmhouse after the tire had exploded Yet in all the yard surrounding the house, there was no cover for a watcher which would successfully conceal him Even the cornfield was just far enough away to afford no chance for direct espionage, and as for the big tree which stood a few feet from the window it was so smooth and its gigantic branches were so high from the ground, that it always had baffled even Jerry Tiger, most indefatigable of tree climbers. He had to employ a ladder when he wished to get into it.

Mr. Tiger Offers a Theory

But I could not shake off the feeling, and, despising my own weakness, I put the movable screen aside, an closed and bolted the window before going downstairs.

"Is there any way that man could have crawled into the cellar?" I asked Mr. Tiger, still doing sentry duty between the sitting room and the kitchen

"No, that's one thing certain," he replied. "The windows are all locked on the inside, and Mis' Tiger, she locked the cellar door and give me the key before she went over to your house. Why?" eagerly. "Did you see anything that made you auspicion he'd got in the cellar?"

"Not a thing." I returned truthfully "Indeed, I can't see any trace of him anywhere. The grass isn't trampled at all, and there isn't any sign of—of blood. Yet that glass must have cut him"

"I'll bet it did," Mr. Tiger said gleefully, "if he had his face pressed against the pane the way you said"

"I know. But I can't see a thing It seems just like a dream"

"By George!" My neighbor looked at me in sudden and disparaging comprehension "That's what it was a dream, and nothing else. You've been worrying over those Chinese that your father's so het up about, and you was all excited over getting that fool rice paper thing I found pinned on the car cushion and then you was so tired that you just dropped off to sleep and dreamed the hull thing. They say you can dream a whole year's experiences in two minutes. That's what it all was, a dream, and you broke the window all for nothing."

"I shall replace the window, of course, and the coffee pot," I said a bit stiffly, and was ashamed of my manner the next minute when I saw an embarrassed flush on my neighbor's cheeks.

"Sho! Mis' Graham, you didn't think I was hintin' about that, did you?"

No, indeed I know you weren't. Please forgive me" I said earnest-
